BIRMINGHAM DISGRACED

By the Actions of Two Young Men Friday Evening.

Joseph Bush, a Young German whose Home is in Detroit, Claims that he was Waylaid, Knocked Down, Kicked and Badly Injured by John Money and James Mesley, who they say Has Two Broken Ribs and Other Injuries. Arrests Are Quite Likely to Follow.

On Friday evening last, at all reports, which is the name of Birmingham was disgraced in a manner which we would not like to mention, should it be possible to do so, from the fact that advertising such actions at all would be to the credit of the community. It is not our duty to report such a thing, but it is our duty to report it, if it is to be a warning to others. We are sure that the public will be glad to know that such a thing has happened in Birmingham, and that the authorities are taking steps to prevent it from happening again.

Food for Thought.

On Halloween's night our village was disgraced by a rabble of young men whose profanity and lawlessness would scarcely allow us to believe that they came from some of our best homes and had been taught by tender, loving mothers. What a pity that even to this night they should forget those teachings and themselves on a level with the street urchin. It is very well to show the boys old party well on Halloween night. The poor fellow who had to build a new year of respect for cottage, had many other places to show his respect.
