TALMAGE'S SERMON.

TELLS OF DAVID'S PASSAGE OVER THE JORDON.

From an Almost Unnoticed Incident of Olden Time Are Drawn Lessons of Comfort and Hopefulness to All God's Children.

(Copyright, 1896, Louis Klopsch, N. Y.)

Washington, Dec. 2.—From an unnoticed incident of olden time Dr. Talmage in this discourse draws some comfortable and rapturous lessons. The text is II. Samuel xix, 18, "And there went over a ferryboat to carry over [illegible] household."

Which of the crowd is the king? That short man, sunburnt and [illegible] dress? It is David, the exiled king. He has defeated his enemies, is now going home to reascend the throne of Israel. Let us cross with David and accompany him. But [illegible] him across a ferryboat. [illegible] is compelled to [illegible] the river [illegible] ferryboat. [illegible] David [illegible] about