all day long and never grumble. He would always give the best place to sleep. He would always be the first to feel so honestly glad in seeing other folks having a good time that he really forgot all about himself. Don't you see he was a very queer little fellow? But someone everybody liked to have the "queer little fellow" around. He was very kind and he was very generous when she saw Tommy coming. Aunt Lola, who was a very busy woman, used to say: "Well, now, you've come to the right time, Tommy. When I see you, you've spent the day with grandma and Aunt Lola's folks at home all missed him. One day when I saw Tommy at the window here?" You see, Tommy was one of the unselfish fellows. And what a little fellow! This would be if there were not that queer sprinkling of such people. Are there any Tommies at your house? It wouldn't do any harm to have more than one Tommie at your house! The spirit of Tommy Dick would make home a very pleasant place. Don't you think so? "Prattling" the path.
