KING DON:

A STORY OF MILITARY LIFE IN INDIA.

.....BY MAVOR ALLAN.....

CHAPTER IX. (Continued.)

The ball is now with a savage leap [illegible] had pounced upon [illegible] and [illegible] Don. Dazed [illegible] could. I will never desert you never never!" she cried.

His fingers closed upon hers with a fierce pressure and a look almost of rapture swept his face. Then still holding her hand, he fell asleep.

(To be continued.)

RICH IN MEMORIES.

The Long-Neglected Harrison Mansion Finds a New Owner.

The long neglected Harrison mansion at North Bend, O., has been purchased recently by Mrs. O. H. Hall of Cincinnati, for the sum of $15,000, and will be preserved in commemoration of the illustrious men who have been born within its walls. It was built by Gen. William Henry Harrison, [illegible] the ninth president of the United States. [illegible] Harrison, [illegible] Harrison, [illegible] Harrison,