Pointed Questions

What do you think of sales, so called, with no motive given for their existence?

What do you think of buying damaged goods at so-called cheap prices?

They are bound to give out when least expected. Facts rule, and the reason that such goods cannot be sold for more is because they are worth no more. Comparison will prove it. I challenge any one to give better than my ordinary, every-day values. New goods, never damaged, at prices never equaled, because I have never been a party to any such transaction.

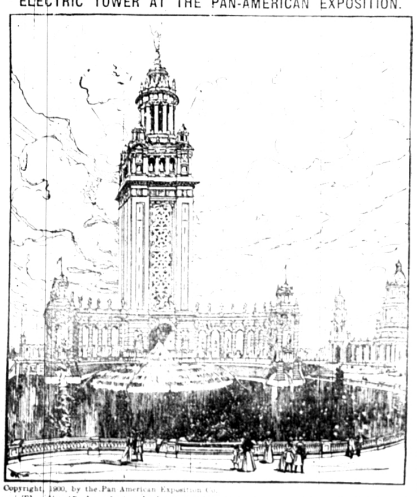
ELECTRIC TOWER AT THE PAN-AMERICAN EXPOSITION.



Copyright, 1900, by the Pan American Exposition Co.

The dignified and stately beauty of the great Electric Tower, which will form the conspicuous centerpiece of the Pan American Exposition at Buffalo May 1 to Nov. 1, 1901, will command the rapt admiration of every visitor. The entire exterior of the 350 foot high tower will be studded with electric lights.

CONDENSED TRIFLES.

"Our youngest child talks continually." "Boy or girl?" "Aren't you able to draw an inference, my dear sir?" "Your friend, the seance medium, moved out of that old house in a hurry." "What was the matter?" "She found out it was haunted."

Ferdy—So you told Mrs. Gotrocks she looked as young as her daughter! I suppose that caught the old lady? Percy—Yes, but it lost me the daughter.—Puck.

"I hear that dear Mrs. Brown, your mother-in-law, is dead. Has the burial taken place yet?" "I shall have Serena noticed." "You're wise. It's safer."—New York World.

Young Mother (specially fussy)—Does baby like the cereal we have been feeding her? Grocer—Looks like it. She's full twice daily on that to my certain knowledge.—New York Weekly.

Chumley—Have you ever had the experience of being in a railroad accident? Dumley—Yes, I have had that experience. Chumley—Where were you at the time? Dumley—I was in the baggage car. Chumley—Were you injured? Dumley—No, I was not injured, but I was in a terrible state of mind for fear I would be.—Boston Transcript.

Horace W. Allen, the newly appointed minister to Korea, is a native of Delaware county, Ohio. He is a graduate of Ohio Wesleyan university, and of the medical college of Cincinnati.
