The "HEATHEN CHINESE."

Peculiar Traits of the Almond-Eyed Celestial.

For Europeans or Americans to understand the mind of China is hopelessly impossible. That ocean which is the physical separation between her and America is but a narrow gorge compared to the gulf between her mental life and ours. Japan knows her, but the white man does not and never can. She is beyond his gale. For thousands upon thousands of years her people have lived apart from the rest of the world. [illegible]

If he is ill his "doctors" prods for the pain with a long needle often piercing the stomach walls in the endeavor to find it. If he is lame he takes ashes of frogs' legs for rheumatism. "Dragon's bones" and among other remedies in the Chinese pharmacopoeia are asses' skins, rhinoceros horns, the new top of stag horns, tortoise shell, human milk and various other [illegible] ground to powder.

His names for officers are as varied as his medicines. Here are a few: Horse-Watch, Village Protector, Dog-Vanquisher, Hog-Watcher, Chief of White Cotton Boots, Assistant Assistant Assistant Assistant [illegible]

Two Islands Not Included

When Spain Ceded the Philippines to the United States

A year after the treaty of peace which ceded the Philippines to the United States was signed at Paris it was discovered that the boundaries as defined in the treaty did not include two islands of the group which are just off the coast of Borneo. These islands are known as Cagayan and Casayan. The two islands are also quite rich in area and thinly populated products containing from 4,000 to 5,000 people all. Cbiltu is a long, narrow island 14 miles in length by two across. It is flat and uninteresting, save for one conical mountain in the center about 500 feet high. It is surrounded by coral reefs, with no anchorage to speak of. Cbiltu lies only four miles outside of the southern boundary fixed by the treaty of Paris. Cagayan is about the same area, five miles by eight. With mountains reaching a height of 1,000 feet. It is the largest of half a dozen tiny islets known as the Cagayan Sulu group, and owing allegiance to the Sultan of Sulu. Its chief products are tobacco, sugar and animal [illegible] products. Both the islands are said to be mainly valuable for the pearl and shell fisheries which [illegible] possibly developments of importance.

As soon as the [illegible] was signed by this country the matter was brought to the attention of the Spanish officials and it has been made [illegible] the two islands should be included in the original cession. The claim Spain would not honor as the islands were not included in the specific boundaries as set forth in the treaty. The fundamental principles of common law applied readily to Spain's contention, and in order to prevent any other foreign power getting a foothold in the archipelago and believing it to be in the interest of public [illegible] the United States has offered Spain as an indemnity for the cession of the islands and it is said that the Spanish cabinet is disposed to accept the offer.
