ONE OF THE THIEVES WOUNDED

The Early Morning Disturbance by a Dynamite Explosion on Shooting and Chase of Thieves - A Good Shot by the Village Druggist Other Michigan News.

Burglars' Work Frustrated.
Between 2 and 3 o'clock Saturday morning the village of Armada was startled by an explosion followed by a fusillade of pistol shots. An investigation showed that burglars had entered the D. H. Harrows general store where the postoffice is located, and exploded dynamite in cracking the safe. The charge was so heavy that the door was blown off, leaving the way through the ceiling and out into the street, a distance of about fifty feet. Right opposite the postoffice is the drug store of E. Phillips and the liquor upstairs. Mr. Phillips realized immediately what was up and grabbed his revolver. He ran to the door and to pour lead into the store across the way. Having emptied his revolver he acted his shotgun. The burglars, as being in the street, when they opened fire on the citizens as they ran. Phillips raised his gun and fired into the retreating forces. One of the crooks was seen to fall, but his name remains locked in the darkness and started for the railroad track. Again the man fell, and it was concluded that he was seriously wounded. The other two men, however, managed to get him to a nearby house. Phillips followed them and saw them get out of range. The burglars were followed by a posse of citizens, but they had been seen by Phillips and he was not in a position to follow them. Phillips followed them and saw them get out of range. # It Pained It All Right.

An aged Fort Huron woman named Mrs. Emma Hastings called on Prof. Wyman. Wyman had recently been convicted of practicing palmistry and fined, but appealed the case. Mr. Hastings had heard of the wonderful things that Wyman was accomplishing with accomplices and asked him to tell a fortune for her. She says she told her that she would be successful in bringing ten $20 bills to him. She did so and seated herself at a table with the professor. He inspected her hands and the money in an envelope; then he placed five stamps on it and after a few mysterious passes uttered the words "The package is here, telling her to take it home and place it in the family Bible, letting it remain there until Wednesday of this week. But Mrs. Hastings demanded a surety for the package, only to find a number of pieces of brown paper which she threw about in her room. Wyman's whereabouts is unknown.
