REGARD PERUNA AS THEIR SHIELD AGAINST CATARRHS, COUGHS, COLDS, GRIP AND CATARRHAL DISEASES.

MRS. BELVA LOCKWOOD LATE CANDIDATE FOR THE PRESIDENCY

Mrs. T. T. Smith, 252 N. 4th St., Philadelphia, Pa. 'Peruna has done wonders for me. It has cured my long-continued catarrh of the bladder, my rheumatism of the back, my indigestion, and my general debility.'

Mrs. M. J. Jones, 102 N. 1st St., Philadelphia, Pa. 'I have used Peruna both for myself and my mother. My mother is now in her 80th year, and I think it an invaluable remedy for colds, catarrhs, hay fever and kindred diseases, and a good tonic for feeble and old people.'

THE SNUFF TRADE.

Statistical Factbook. Last year, contrary to the usual rule of the tobacco trade, a large decrease in the manufacture of snuff was reported. In 1909 nearly eight million pounds were manufactured, and less than fourteen million pounds in 1910, says the New York Tribune. On the face of it this would say that the making of snuff was passing away with the industry in certain and the line of the 'last days' when, in the historic and scientific profession. As a matter of fact, however, these figures really show an increase. The average weight of snuff has increased in the past few years. The decrease in the total quantity of snuff is due to the fact that the average weight of snuff has increased in the past few years. # CHAPPED HANDS.

Catchers Cannot Be Cured with LOCAL APPLICATIONS, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease, unless the hands are kept clean and dry. The only effective remedy is a thorough washing with soap and water. The hands, indeed, should never be washed in still water. This practice, so common as to be almost universal, is chiefly responsible for the roughness of the hands, and for producing the unsightly cracked 'chapped' condition of those useful members. A condition already resultant from the alkali remaining in the water from the wash. To prevent this the hand-washing should be accomplished under a running faucet, which causes the water to flow over the hands, and thus washes away the soap. A wet hand should be dried with a towel, and not allowed to dry naturally. A preventive of chapped hands is the use of a good hand cream, which will keep the skin soft and supple, and prevent the formation of cracks. The use of such a cream is especially important for those who are exposed to the elements, and for those who have to handle rough materials. # HALF-DEAD SOLDIER.

Reverend Al. D. Walker, of the Home in South Dakota. A soldier who had been in the army for many years, and who had suffered from a severe illness, was found lying on the ground, apparently dead. He was brought home and revived, but he was so weak that he could not stand. He was confined to his bed for many months, and he was unable to do any work. He was finally able to get up, but he was still very weak, and he was unable to do any work. He was finally able to get up, but he was still very weak, and he was unable to do any work.
