Nervous Prostration.

A Noted Boston Woman Describes its Symptoms and Terrors.—Two Severe Cases Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"I am so nervous that no one ever suffered as I do! There isn't a well inch in my body. I honestly believe my lungs are diseased, my chest pains me so, but I have no cough. I am so weak at my stomach, and have indigestion terribly, and palpitation of the heart; am losing flesh; and this headache and backache nearly kills me, and yesterday I had hysterics.

"There is a weight in the lower part of my bowels, bearing down all the time, with pains in my groins and thighs—I can't sleep, walk, or sit, and blue—oh goodness! I am simply the most miserable of women."

This is a most vivid description of a woman suffering with nervous prostration, caused by inflammation or some other diseased condition of the womb.

No woman should allow herself to reach such a perfection of misery when there is no need of it. Read about Miss Williamson's case and how she was cured.

Two Sad Cases of Nervous Prostration Cured.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I was suffering such tortures from nervous prostration that life was a burden. I could not sleep at all, and was too weak to walk across the floor. My heart was affected so that often I could not lie down at all without almost suffocating. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I really began to improve on taking the first bottle. I continued to take the medicine, and am now better in every way, and feel like a different person. I am simply a well woman."

MISS ADELE WILLIAMSON, 196 N. Boulevard, Atlanta, Ga.

"I had nervous prostration terribly, caused by female weakness. I suffered everything; was unable to eat, sleep or work. After a while I was induced to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I really began to improve on taking the first bottle. I continued to take the medicine, and am now better in every way, and feel like a different person. I am simply a well woman."

VOLCANIC ERUPTIONS.

Terrific Explosions and Outbursts of Flames at Different Periods.

Careful study of the behavior of volcanoes has enabled observers in recent years to predict with some degree of accuracy when a renewal of plutonic activity is impending. This was the case last summer when Mount Etna, for a few days attracted attention after seven years of almost complete quiescence. The last eruption had occurred in 1892, but in the autumn of 1898 blue flames began to emerge from the mouth of the largest crater. Then a great deal of vapor was emitted from the lesser orifices; it was then announced that Etna seemed to be preparing for its flow of lava on the southern slopes. The expected eruption did not begin until the morning of July 29, 1899, when great volumes of lava and smoke began to issue from the main crater, but after several days the activity subsided and Etna soon resumed its peaceful aspect. The principal records of volcanic eruptions among the Cyclades in the Aegean sea, but the volcanic will again become a center of interest if the recent statement is true that Santorin is preparing for another series of terrible explosions such as marked the year 1866. For a hundred years there was silence within the crater of Santorin, and then, without warning, the island was shaken by a series of earthquakes, which were followed by the outbreak of flames and lava. Subterranean noises, which finally reached the violence of its outbursts. The eruptions between 1866 and 1870, when no less than 10,000 were counted, drew spectators from all parts of the world, including men of science, who published many valuable observations on the volcanic action.

THE TOMBS OF ROYALTY

Final Resting Places of European Kings and Queens.

England is almost the only country in Europe which does not preserve recognized resting place for the remains of its royal family. The kings and queens of England are buried in Westminster, Windsor, Hanover, Wimborne and Canterbury. Spain which pays more attention to royal tombs than any other country, has the most exact rules for its royalty. In Madrid, in the Escorial, built by Philip, the Monk King, there is a pantheon de los reyes, in which repose the remains of the princes of the royal house. Here Ferdinand VI and Barbara of Braganza, Charles III and Maria Louisa, Charles IV and Maria Louisa and Ferdinand VII and Maria Christina, with one exception are buried in the Escorial. Isabella II of Spain and Francis d'Assisi de Bourbon, her consort, are buried in the royal vault at Atocha. The kings of Holland, Belgium and Portugal are also interred in the royal vaults of their capitals. The kings of Sweden and Norway are buried in the cathedral of Riddarholm, in Stockholm, and the kings of Denmark have been buried in the Roskild cathedral.

Laziness Right with an Ladies.

Among the lazy people in Madrid are the ladies. Rising at noon, and in the Kingdom of Spain, Rafael Perez of Real Madrid, and a female couple of millionaires, Mrs. Mackay and Mrs. Yznaga. The former is a tall, fine looking woman, about eight feet from tip-toe to toe, obviously visited the Fremont at Long Island and carried off one of the farm's sheep, and had returned and begged a wool attack on a flock of the which Mr. Perez is the owner. The people and happened to be on the spot when she made her booming shot from Mr. Perez's gun is a fact, but how and, reaching the scene, to throw down his gun and rush to the prone form, born by grizzly bears, is not known. Suffice it to say that he did make the greatest number of the fine, fat, tasty sheep that ever sheeps into his flock, and all of the most beautiful specimens of the fleecy race were his and his alone. He was the envy of all the shepherds in the district, and his fame spread far and wide. Mr. Perez is a bachelor, and is also a member of the Madrid Jockey club.

Zealous Little Housewives.

A school of domestic economy at Bethnal Green, London, carries on its pain for enthusiasts among its pupils. The school is built and furnished in imitation of an East London workingman's cottage, and the poor little girls of the district are taught how to be thrifty and be capable wives for workingmen. The school has been a great success and is always crowded to its full capacity, but either the ordinary the work must be deadly dull for the pupils' real must be a treat for the girls, which is to wash dishes and stone cleaning and beating carpets to dressing. When a pupil has been good she is allowed to wash a baby, and a clean baby is always forthcoming for the youthful mothers.

The Weaker Sex.

Japan has already produced a woman who has made a name for herself in the world of science. Dr. Ogata is a specialist in bacteriology, and has made a study of the bacillus which produces lockjaw. She has succeeded in isolating the germ and has discovered a serum which is said to be a certain cure for the disease. She is now at work on the bacillus of cholera.

MULE ON SNOWSHOES.

The Plan by Which Mail Was Carried Through Big Snowdrifts.

It is said that the late Jock Darling, the most noted hunter and trapper ever known in Maine, once brought a young deer out of the deep snows of the woods by fitting snowshoes to its feet, and there have been instances of dogs wearing the moosehide, but not until a recent day, so far as the records show, did any one in this New England state ever see a mule on snowshoes. The snow that came last week was only an ordinary fall, but the gale that succeeded it piled up big drifts, shutting out many towns from all communication with the outside world. Bingham, in Somerset county, had been without mail for a week when one evening, the mail carrier, Henry Cassidy, arrived from The Forks with four sacks slung over a mule's back. The mule Pete is a diminutive animal, tough and strong, but, going as mules generally go, utterly unable to wade through the high ridges of snow between The Forks and Bingham. Cassidy, after studying the situation a bit, decided to fit snowshoes to Pete. The plan seemed all right and the little mule, seeming to appreciate the situation, allowed the shoes to be fitted without objection. The shoes were made of oak frames, woven with stout moosehide, about half the width worn by men and without the usual long shank behind. Pete came along on his shoes as well as Cassell on his, and the shoes were welcomed with shouts of approval by the people of Bingham. The return journey, twenty four miles, was made in the same way.

TESTING OF DIAMONDS.

How to Show Whether Supposed Precious Stones Are Genuine.

Although you may not be an expert at precious stones, there are three ways in which you can tell whether a diamond is real or not.

First boil the stone in boracic acid to preserve the polish upon the surface of the stone. Then heat the jewel in a gas flame and drop it into some cold water while it is hot. If it is a real diamond it will stand the test without cracking to pieces. If an imitation the stone will crack and crumble to pieces. The second test is as follows: Take a cup of water, a black cup, gutta percha or any dark stone up to use, and drop two stones into the water, the one a diamond and the other, which is new to the ordinary eyes, a real diamond. If a stone only will shine a clear white through the water and will be clearly visible, while the other stone will blend with the water in such a way as to be almost imperceptible in the water. Another test is to produce a surface of striped paper, red and white stripes are the most suitable and pass the suspected stone slowly over its surface. If the colors show through the stone it is some variety of crystal and not diamond. A real diamond will not show the variety of colors, but will look the same over the red as well as the white stripes. London Express.

MADAME BAVEAS TESTIFIES.

A Distinguished Lady After Traveling for Six Years in Search of Health, at Last Finds It in Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Hot Springs, Ark., March 18.—(Special.) This popular resort numbers among its patrons many of the world's most distinguished men and women, but none more so than Madam Isabella Eleu Baveas, wife of Baveas, of the Free Masons and Lodge of England.

Madam Baveas like most of the other visitors came here in search of health. She was not disappointed in her cure was to be found in the virtue of the baths, but in a few doses of Dodd's Kidney Pills, which she found on sale here, and which is being used and with wonderful success by a number of the visitors to Hot Springs. She says:

I traveled almost constantly for the past six years in the interests of my husband, and by which gradually became broken down through the change of food, water, climate, etc. The doctors told me I had diabetes and advised me to go to the Southern as they could do nothing for me. While there my attention was called to Dodd's Kidney Pills by a fellow sufferer who had been greatly benefited by using them.

I profited by her experience and bought a box, and then another, and soon until I had used seven boxes. It is with gratitude that I state that they cured me completely, and I am now able to take up the duties of life once more. I am very thankful for what Dodd's Kidney Pills have done for me, and as a grateful woman shall never hesitate to recommend them to my own suffering wife. Madame Baveas.

The very satisfactory experience of this distinguished woman should be an encouragement to all similar sufferers.

Dodd's Kidney Pills are 50c a box, six boxes for $2.50. Buy them from your local druggist if you can. If he cannot supply you send to the Dodd's Medicine Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

Paris Gowns as a Winter Season

Amid scenes of the wildest excitement, in which some of the members of the Montana legislature threatened bodily harm to their opponents, Paris Gibson, the millionaire ranchman, associate of James J. Hill, and founder of the City of Great Falls was elected to the United States senate at 3 o'clock Friday morning in succession to Senator William A. Clark. Twenty-two ballots were taken during the day and night before the legislature could decide upon their unlikely choice.

A Remedy for the Grippe.

Physicians recommend KEMP'S BALSAM for the grippe and all throat troubles. It is a reliable remedy, and has been successfully used in thousands of cases. Don't neglect a cold, but get a bottle today and keep it on hand for immediate use. Don't accept any substitute for grippe but insist on having KEMP'S BALSAM put up in a yellow wrapper. The genuine has the name Piso's Cure for printed on the bottle.

AFTER-EFFECTS OF LA GRIPPE.

THE after-effects of the grip are often disastrous. It is commonly known to the medical fraternity that the numerous ailments and complications which follow the grip are apt to be more serious than the acute stage of the disease.

Some people have the grip very lightly. They may be confined to the house only a day or two and yet a long train of disagreeable, disabling symptoms follow. All sorts of tonics and stimulating remedies have been devised to meet this condition. None of them can compare in results with Peruna.

Every one who has had the grip ought to take a short course of Peruna. Read what the following people have to say about it.

Washington, Feb. 4, 1899.
The Peruna Medicine Co. Columbus, O.:
Gentlemen—I have taken Peruna and know for two weeks, and find it very much benefited. I feel that my cure has been effected by Peruna. I have taken it for la grippe, and have found it an excellent remedy. I shall follow suit with all fellow sufferers.—M. W. Howard, Congressman, Howard, home address Fort Payne, Ala.

Grip Produces Catarrh.

Henry Hamm, the inventor and maker of the famous Hamm's beer, of the Hamm Brewing Co., at Wm. Hamlepoint, Pa., writes:

1401 South Ninth Street, Philadelphia, Pa., 1899.
Dr. S. B. Hartman, Dear Sir:—I write to inform you that I had a bad attack of la grippe last December which I treated myself in the usual way, and which left me with catarrh, which several of my friends advised me to try your wonderful medicine, Peruna. I began with a little faith, but at the end of March and it certainly did me a great deal of good. I was so well satisfied that I purchased another bottle and followed your directions, which you furnish as free, and I am also very glad to say that it has cured me. I shall certainly recommend the Peruna to all my friends.

GRIP CAUSED NERVOUS DYSPEPSIA.

D. B. Wallace, a charter member of the International Harness Makers' Union, writes from Northern Ave., Minneapolis, Minn.:

Following as a severe attack of la grippe I seemed to be afflicted with a severe form of indigestion and nervousness, so I could neither eat nor sleep and I thought I would die. Peruna was highly recommended to me, which I could not afford to do.

One of my customers who was greatly helped by Peruna advised me to try it, and I procured a bottle the same day. I used it faithfully and felt a marked improvement. During the next two months I took four bottles and then felt perfectly well. Now my head is clear, my nerves quite steady, I enjoy food, and rest well. Peruna has been worth a dollar a dose to me.—D. B. Wallace.

GRIP LEFT HER BROKEN DOWN.

Miss Alice Dressler, 1214 N. Bryant ave., Minneapolis, Minn., writes as follows concerning Peruna:

Last spring I suffered from la grippe and was partially cured, but the bad after effects remained through the summer and somehow did not get as strong as I was before.

In the fall I caught cold after getting my feet wet and attending a lecture in a cold hall, and suffered a relapse. The effects of the throat and head followed, and as I was in a weak condition physically previous to this, it took but little to break me down completely. One of my college friends, who was visiting me, asked me to try Peruna and I did so and found it all and more than I had expected. It not only cured me of the catarrh, but restored me to perfect health.—Alice Dressler.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.
