

PERIODS OF PAIN.

How Three Women Found Relief.

MRS. E. KUEHL.

While no woman is entirely free from periodical suffering, it does not seem to have been the plan where three women should suffer severely. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the most thorough female regulator known to medical science. It restores the condition which produces so much discomfort and also interference of the functions.

The three letters here published should encourage every woman who suffers:

"Dear Mrs. Pinkham: I have suffered from periodical suffering for many years, and have tried many different remedies, but have not found any relief. I have been told that your Compound would help me, and I have bought a bottle. I have taken it for a few days, and I feel better than I have for many years. I have no more pain, and I feel as if I have a new lease on life. I am very grateful to you for your Compound, and I will recommend it to all my friends. I am, Mrs. E. Kuehl."

Agricultural Opportunities in Brazil.
Readers of the Farmers' Review who have been infected with a desire to develop the resources of South America should read the following letter published in the Rio News of Rio de Janeiro, concerning the inducements offered by Brazil to agricultural immigrants. The letter is as follows: "A letter has been laid upon our table from the director of the agricultural department in one of the most prominent institutions of learning in the United States, in which he asks our impression as to the desirability of Americans entering farm life in Brazil. Although there are countless openings here for labor and capital in the development of agriculture, we cannot say that they would be suitable or congenial for young Americans. In the first place, language, race, and institutions are all radically different and would at first be obstacles, but to these, of course, an energetic, intelligent young man could adapt himself. If he tried, but farm life is understood it does not exist in Brazil, nor will he find in this country the inducements for agricultural enterprise which are offered in the United States. Climate and custom will stand in the way of personal manual labor, consequently he must bring capital to enable him to play the role of a gentleman planter, directing his laborers, but not joining in their toil. Then, too, the cultivation of tropical products involves a new experience. He will have a new type of labor to direct, new conditions of weather and soil, new markets with which to familiarize himself. But the really serious obstacles in our opinion, are artificial rather than natural. Imported and frequently distorted political conditions, latent industries, plucking from inherent advantages of race and religion, and ideas of taxation for which the development of general agricultural interests is small training, has been rendered quite impossible, a degree of extreme which no American farmer could follow. It is not possible for a man to go to Brazil and to the best of his ability to develop a new agricultural enterprise. It is not possible for a man to go to Brazil and to the best of his ability to develop a new agricultural enterprise. It is not possible for a man to go to Brazil and to the best of his ability to develop a new agricultural enterprise."

Two Federal Armies.
There are two federal armies. Few persons are aware of the size of the army of civil employees resident in the District of Columbia. The following official statement does not include senators and representatives and the hundreds of employees of congress, nor active and retired members of the army and navy resident in Washington, but merely the Washington working force of the departments and the money paid out for salaries.

What Do the Children Drink?
The health of the children depends upon the quality of the food and drink which they consume. The children of the poor are especially liable to suffer from indigestion, because they are unable to procure the best quality of food and drink. The children of the rich are equally liable to suffer from indigestion, because they are unable to procure the best quality of food and drink. The children of the middle class are equally liable to suffer from indigestion, because they are unable to procure the best quality of food and drink. United States Marshal Matthews, of Mississippi.
In 1885, Matthews was United States Marshal of Mississippi, in a recent letter to the Illinois Western Cattle Company at Columbus, Ohio, written from Hattiesburg, Miss., he writes:

"I am happy to say that I am cured of catarrh and need no more attention from you. It is a great satisfaction that I am able to write you that Peruna has in my case done all that you claim, and that I will need no more medicine."

A UNITED STATES MARSHAL Thanks Peruna For His Rapid Recovery From Catarrh.

United States Marshal Matthews, of Mississippi.
In 1885, Matthews was United States Marshal of Mississippi, in a recent letter to the Illinois Western Cattle Company at Columbus, Ohio, written from Hattiesburg, Miss., he writes:

"I am happy to say that I am cured of catarrh and need no more attention from you. It is a great satisfaction that I am able to write you that Peruna has in my case done all that you claim, and that I will need no more medicine."

The great multitude take this remedy without any other advice than the directions to be found upon the bottle and in the pamphlets. There are those who prefer, however, to correspond with Dr. Hartman during their illness. To all such he will make prompt and careful answer without charge.

How F. Crocker of Buffalo, N. Y., who was for years Superintendent of Buffalo, in a letter dated October 16, writes:

"I have been a sufferer from catarrh six or seven years, and after trying many remedies was induced by a good friend to take Peruna. The results have been highly satisfactory. I take pleasure in recommending Peruna to any one suffering with catarrh, as my case is complete."

How B. B. Dwyer, Congressman from West Virginia, in a letter from Washington, D. C., to the Peruna Medicine Co., says the following of their catarrh remedy Peruna:

"I am with my colleagues in the House of Representatives in recommending your excellent remedy, Peruna, as a good tonic and also an effective cure for catarrh."

Mrs. Mary C. Ferriss writes from Paradise, Tex., the following: "I think I can say that your good advice and medicine has cured me of chronic catarrh. I have had no pains in my head since I have taken Peruna. I have been in bed with ever since 1895, and have taken a good many medicines which were only of temporary relief. Peruna is the catarrh cure. The Peruna stopped my catarrh of the head as well as it did my chronic catarrh. I am very thankful for Dr. Hartman's advice and medicine."

From the following for all catarrhal diseases. It acts quickly and beneficially upon the inflamed mucous membrane, thus increasing the cure of catarrh.

Catarrh is catarrh wherever located. Catarrh is essentially the same everywhere. The remedy that will cure catarrh in one situation will cure it in all situations.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, without one to Dr. Hartman, making a full statement of your case, and he will give you his personal advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of the Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, Ohio.
