On Saturday afternoon a family traveling overland from Iowa to some eastern port arrived in town.

The family consisted of Mr. and Mrs. Hayden and two children. The youngest, an infant, was seriously ill.

The family although total strangers were given the best of care and the little one was buried in Greenwood cemetery the following morning.

The grief-stricken parents disposed of their effects and resumed their journey east.

Monday morning last week, Mr. Hayden while on his way to the city house with a pig met with an accident that while not serious was bad enough.

The pig was struck by the front of the car and the occupants thrown to the ground. Besides Mr. Hayden and a young boy from his team and a young girl from the city were in the car.

The young boy was badly injured and the young girl was seriously injured. The driver was not injured.
