Going South?

Quality of South Horses.

It has been established for a long time that the quality of the horse is the first consideration in the purchase of a horse for work or pleasure.

QUESTION ANSWERED.

Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers' and grandmothers' never thought of using anything else for Indigestion or Biliousness. Doctors were scarce and they seldom heard of Appetitiser, Nervine, Peppermint, or Heart Failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with headaches and other aches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower, in liquid form, to make you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. Sample bottles at Wholesale & Retail.

It is known that blacking occurs more frequently in a pasture, feed lot, or stable, in the presence of the blacking germ, other than in the ground of these places or in materials (coarse feed, etc.) brought there regularly. Whenever an animal becomes affected, the germs multiply by the million in its system, and their liberation, through natural or artificial means, tends to preserve, increase or spread the infection. In the large pastures of the West and Southwest an affected animal is rarely noticed until after death, when the swarms of buzzards or other birds of prey indicate that there is "something dead" and an investigation is made. It is then frequently too late to attempt to prevent the spread of the infection, for wolves and other vermin usually attack the carcass in short order, without even waiting for the animal to die and only the bones and pieces of the hide are found scattered over an acre or more of ground.

In more densely populated districts where a sick animal is readily detected, there is often an inclination to "shoot" the animal usually by means of a Jack Rabbit or other small animal trap. In the latter case the result is the same as in the other case, the infection is scattered broadcast from the carcass made in the act of shooting. In some instances it is stated that the animal, after being skinned in order at least to save the hide, and the remaining parts of the carcass are left to take care of themselves. This practice is a source of serious infection. It is therefore of the utmost importance that only owners in the field be made to realize that an animal affected with blacking germs should be disposed of immediately in a sanitary manner and not be allowed to rot within a pen. If a carcass is not disposed of in this manner, it is a source of infection to other animals and should be disposed of in a sanitary manner.

RELIGION AND MODERNITY.

When we consider the progress of modern science and the discoveries it has made, we are often struck by the contrast between the old and the new. It is often said that the progress of science is the progress of the human race. This is true, but it is also true that the progress of science is often hindered by the superstitions and prejudices of the past.
