COMMENCEMENT

Exercises at U. P. Church of a Very Pleasing Nature.

Large Crowd Listened to Class Day Program--All the Graduates Did Nicely Made Added to the Pleasure of the Occasion.

Another class of young men and women have passed from the Birmingham High School and are now facing the stern realities of life. A young class when it first leaves its mother's arms, is not only full of hope and cheer, but also full of the realization that the future is full of uncertainty.

The class of this year, however, was a very unusual one. It was the first class to graduate from the Birmingham High School since the opening of the new building. The class was composed of 100 students, 50 boys and 50 girls.

The exercises at the U. P. Church were of a very pleasing nature. The program was well planned and the graduates did very nicely. The exercises were held at 8 o'clock and lasted for one hour.

IN POTTER'S FIELD

The Remains of Harry E. Moore Were Laid to Rest.

After many efforts to locate the remains of Harry E. Moore, who died suddenly at the National Hotel, June 9, 1901, it was decided to bury the remains in Greenwood cemetery in the Potter's field and this was accordingly done Thursday last week at 5 o'clock p. m. by Rev. M. H. Barton of the M. E. church conducting the services. Only a few were present at the cemetery, but a Christian burial was given the unfortunate man.

It is now known that increased wages were granted and that he came out of a coal mine there in a riotous way.

Harry E. Moore.

Whose relatives could not be located.

He wandered away and became a wreck who probably never became known. Different places where he had worked all make the same report that while from his occasional drinking spells he was a gentleman in every respect.

Since his burial different persons have been trying to learn something about the dead man but all come to the conclusion that he is not the man wanted. A lady and gentleman were here and had with them a picture of a man named Moore, who has been missing for some time. The picture resembled the dead man to some extent, but the discrepancy in the age of the two men made it impossible for him to have been the original of the picture.

Same Everywhere.

It is well commented on the youth newspaper, says the striking A. J. trying to make their absence from Birmingham felt by the class in the coming month and the following way: The following congregation. The young folks of the village ought to form a mutual protection society and have a few fellows.

Walter Rault, being continually in a tangle with one of his own splinters of wood protruding from his abdomen. Tom's ride the five miles in a better time than this. In writing to a friend here of the prize in this race, a gold medal, Tom (Express) J. says he wishes to accept it.
