W. H. Smith and Sammie Battle enjoyed Thursday last week trying to entice members of the limy tribe from the beautiful waters of the Detroit River, down at River Rouge. Although the fish were not biting that day the boys enjoyed their outing.

In looking over the ads this week did not fail to read the notice for E. M. Stabler. The popular young lady believes in the value of penicillin and knows that the public wants to know what she has to offer them in the line of bargains. Good goods at low prices is the motto.

If you have anything in the line of carpet laying or apartment house painting or any other kind of work, call on the Whitehead & Mitchell building.
