

BABISTS OF PERSIA.

A committee of Americans with a remarkable religious purpose has waited on Herbert W. Bowen, lately United States minister to Persia, now in Paris. That purpose was nothing less than to ask Mr. Bowen earnestly to petition the Shah for protection, freedom from persecution, for the Babists, the religious followers of the Báb, who have long been oppressed by the Shah. For the Babists of their creed differ in many important points from the doctrine of Islam, the state religion of Persia, and a Paris telegram.

The faith is spreading among Americans here. Among those who have adopted it are Mrs. Hearst of New Jersey, Mrs. Virginia Trip and her daughter of Boston, Miss Fairfax, Clifford Barron of the Harbor and her daughter, Miss Scripps, who writes The Fourth party, and Mrs. John Jack son of New York. Getting out of China.

The city of Tien Tsin is now more crowded than ever. Officers of all nations are en route for their homes and the hotels are placing out in every available space. Apartments have been rented at the university of Tien Tsin for Prince Chun and his suite of forty, who will remain there for three days before leaving for Germany to make arrangements for the number of Bahá'ís who will accompany them. Mr. Deady, who has the Chinese troops arrested, was directed by the China Merchants' Agency to protect their property, which is a part of the company's property, and of the which was afterward distributed under orders from the British and American consuls, as best they could. It is pointed out that the company stored three boxes of valises with the charted bank for the troubles to come, and did not withdraw a cent until the day that the Chinese troops were left to the Bahá'ís. The price was accordingly secured through the local banks before the blood forces arrived. It would be hardly possible to hold any portion of the property, however, for the time for anything but the most essential.

Miss Scripps says that the Bahá'ís are leaving Tien Tsin to go to Europe. She says that she has seen the Bahá'ís and that they are leaving Tien Tsin to go to Europe. She says that she has seen the Bahá'ís and that they are leaving Tien Tsin to go to Europe.
