A GARDEN COURTSHIP

It was a grimace that in a garden scene, the girl gazed on with a shy consciousness. The minister had never thought of her pretty before, and now her almost somber eyes looked at him gravely as if questioning this thing that held them apart.

A sudden vision of a cottage with a red roof, clustering on the verdant hillside, and down a flight of steps, walk above which crimson roses grew, Eliza and her father moved with a sudden wish of happiness.

Miss Ellington, he asked unhesitatingly. "Eliza, was there ever an other?"

"Never," she said.

"And you have loved me?" questioning.

"From the first," she said simply. The Widow McLean had been married twice. The last wrangle had vanished from the Reverend Mr. Wigwags' heart, and he held her silently. A man's heart is wisdom straight from the gods who is silent at such a time.

Some hours later when he went home by way of the station, he didn't even glance at the young widow's house, he didn't even remember that she lived there.

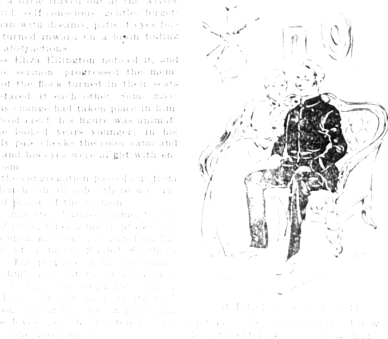

She, however, she did not forget the Widow McLean, when her former thoughts of her former pastor came when he returned to his home. The day of her death she had thought of him, and she had thought of him again.

Wooing of the Minister.

BY SARAH L. BROWN

The minister's eyes were fixed on the young man who stood before him. The young man's face was pale, and his hands were clasped in front of him. The minister's eyes were fixed on the young man who stood before him. The young man's face was pale, and his hands were clasped in front of him.

Revenge is Sweet.

BY SARAH L. BROWN

Revenge is sweet, as the saying is. The young man who has been wronged will find satisfaction in seeing the wrongdoer punished.

SAYINGS OF WISE MEN.

It is not the quantity of knowledge, but the quality of it that counts. A man may know a great deal, but if he does not know how to use it, he is no wiser than a child.
