

McKinley Memorial Day January 29

McKinley Memorial Day, January 29, has been generally observed throughout the country... a grateful people could pay to the memory of one who had deserved well of his country.

Services were held Sunday in churches of almost every denomination... The details of the dastardly crime at Buffalo, who received the American mark of sorrow and respect which a grateful people could pay to the memory of one who had deserved well of his country.

The president had been in the room at times, and they repaired to the room at times... FAREWELL TO HIS WIFE. When on Friday afternoon, the President asked for his wife, they went to the room across the hall, where she sat with Mrs. McWilliams. She was helped into her husband's room by Mrs. McWilliams, but Mr. McKinley had again fallen into unconsciousness.

Dr. Brown, Secretary Cortelyou, John Barber, Mrs. Charles McKenzie, the chief nurse, and three orderlies... The president had been in the room at times, and they repaired to the room at times... The physicians admitted that he was despatched.

Secretary Cortelyou declined to speak for the relatives and close friends of the president, the vice president and the members of the cabinet... The day developed but little excitement for them, however.

During the forenoon the president made a slight gain, and held it well into the afternoon... The day developed but little excitement for them, however.

lump come into the throat. In that room it was, for the moment, not the head of the mightiest nation on earth who was dying. It was a husband and lover standing by the dark river and giving the last look of love to that end one, invalid woman, to whom his smile and cheerful words were literally the breath of life.

The White House promptly sent the official announcement it had received of the death of Secretary Hay and Gage, the only cabinet members in town, and also notified the commission of the District of Columbia.

The official announcement was received at the White House at 2:35 Saturday morning... The White House was closed until after the funeral.

The White House flag was half-masted... The White House was closed until after the funeral.

President McKinley was not in the room at 2:15 o'clock, the crowds which had been on the streets restlessly and sorrowfully awaiting news of the end had retired for the night, as had all the government officials, save a few clerks at the State, War and Navy departments.

The White House promptly sent the official announcement it had received of the death of Secretary Hay and Gage, the only cabinet members in town, and also notified the commission of the District of Columbia.

Secretary Gage upon being informed of the death of President McKinley... "It seems like mockery to attempt to eulogize him. No words can carry to our minds to another a proper understanding of that unique personality.

He himself must be his best interpreter. His acts, his utterances, with their underlying charm, have made him known to all Americans. Through these they understand and appreciate him.

He himself must be his best interpreter. His acts, his utterances, with their underlying charm, have made him known to all Americans.

The earliest paper was doubtless that made from Egyptian papyrus, whence all similar writing material is named.

The inventor of paper made of vegetable fiber was the statesman Tsai Lun, who lived in the ancient Kingdom of Shu, in 105 A. D.

The demand rapidly increased and in 795 new works were set up at Baghdad, where the manufacture was carried on by hand.

The demand rapidly increased and in 795 new works were set up at Baghdad, where the manufacture was carried on by hand.

The demand rapidly increased and in 795 new works were set up at Baghdad, where the manufacture was carried on by hand.

The demand rapidly increased and in 795 new works were set up at Baghdad, where the manufacture was carried on by hand.

The demand rapidly increased and in 795 new works were set up at Baghdad, where the manufacture was carried on by hand.

The demand rapidly increased and in 795 new works were set up at Baghdad, where the manufacture was carried on by hand.

The demand rapidly increased and in 795 new works were set up at Baghdad, where the manufacture was carried on by hand.

The demand rapidly increased and in 795 new works were set up at Baghdad, where the manufacture was carried on by hand.

Old Joe, The Night Watchman. How often on returning home on a dreary winter's night has our sympathy gone out to the poor old fellow who has to stand the cold...

How often on returning home on a dreary winter's night has our sympathy gone out to the poor old fellow who has to stand the cold...

How often on returning home on a dreary winter's night has our sympathy gone out to the poor old fellow who has to stand the cold...

How often on returning home on a dreary winter's night has our sympathy gone out to the poor old fellow who has to stand the cold...

How often on returning home on a dreary winter's night has our sympathy gone out to the poor old fellow who has to stand the cold...

How often on returning home on a dreary winter's night has our sympathy gone out to the poor old fellow who has to stand the cold...

How often on returning home on a dreary winter's night has our sympathy gone out to the poor old fellow who has to stand the cold...

FROM SASKATCHEWAN, WESTERN CANADA. In a letter written from Prince Albert, Saskatchewan, one of the districts of western Canada, by Henry Laughlin to Dr. C. T. Field of Chas. Michigan, and which appeared in the City (Michigan) Clarion, appeared the following:

How often on returning home on a dreary winter's night has our sympathy gone out to the poor old fellow who has to stand the cold...

How often on returning home on a dreary winter's night has our sympathy gone out to the poor old fellow who has to stand the cold...

How often on returning home on a dreary winter's night has our sympathy gone out to the poor old fellow who has to stand the cold...

How often on returning home on a dreary winter's night has our sympathy gone out to the poor old fellow who has to stand the cold...

How often on returning home on a dreary winter's night has our sympathy gone out to the poor old fellow who has to stand the cold...

How often on returning home on a dreary winter's night has our sympathy gone out to the poor old fellow who has to stand the cold...

THE LATE PRESIDENT McKINLEY.

ARRANGEMENTS had been made by which Secretary Hay met Acting Secretary of War Givens and Acting Secretary of the Navy Hackett in the State Department for the purpose of promulgating the necessary orders of the three departments.

ARRANGEMENTS had been made by which Secretary Hay met Acting Secretary of War Givens and Acting Secretary of the Navy Hackett in the State Department for the purpose of promulgating the necessary orders of the three departments.

ARRANGEMENTS had been made by which Secretary Hay met Acting Secretary of War Givens and Acting Secretary of the Navy Hackett in the State Department for the purpose of promulgating the necessary orders of the three departments.

PROPOSED SITE OF THE $500,000 MCKINLEY MEMORIAL AT CANTON.

On a very warm day it is tempting to eat one quail a day for thirty days... The smallest worm will turn, being as much afraid of the black as the black is of the bird.

On a very warm day it is tempting to eat one quail a day for thirty days... The smallest worm will turn, being as much afraid of the black as the black is of the bird.

On a very warm day it is tempting to eat one quail a day for thirty days... The smallest worm will turn, being as much afraid of the black as the black is of the bird.