J. Israel Tarte, Canadian minister of public works, has been forced to resign because of unauthorized remarks he delivered in Europe recently. In accepting the resignation Sir Wilfrid Woodcock said that "his action discloses a policy of high protection during his absence in Europe without ever consulting with him who was wholly unconstitutional and contrary to all notions of responsible government."

CAREER OF JOHN O'DONNELL

Irish Member of Parliament Has Long Been Prominent. John O'Donnell, who shook his fist in the face of the British prime minister in the House of Commons, was elected in 1910 to represent Dublin Mayo in parliament. He is a native of the County of Mayo, is 30 years old and was the first organizer of the United Irish League. Mr. O'Donnell has been Maxim Gorki's Early Days. Maxim Gorki, the Russian novelist, had an early career that in many ways has run away from home when a lad and for years found life mighty hard. He worked as a day laborer, a sawyer, a cook and a lighterman. But he heard that free instruction could be obtained at Kazan and, having no money to pay for his journey, he walked there, a distance of over 600 miles. Then he found he had a head.

Musical Composer Decorated. Camille Saint-Saens, the composer, has been made commander of the Order of Victoria by King Edward as a sign of appreciation for his composition for the coronation. "The Coronation March," Saint-Saens is already the possessor of a great number of decorations from the courts of Europe.

Consentious in His Work. Bishop Gutz, conductor of Bishop Groszard of Athabasca, has been in the frozen north for over forty years, with only three or four visits to civilization.

THOUGHT HE WAS HONEST

Unkind Comment Made on Unfortunate Lawyer's Story. A young lawyer who had only hung out his shingle some months before came into the office of a friend who had already made some money and quite a reputation at the bar. As the older lawyer saw the visitor enter he said indignantly: "Well, how are you getting along? You look sort of seedy. You don't want to get that way. No matter how much you get behind in your accounts, always put up a good bluff and dress well. A lawyer who looks seedy shows by his looks he is not doing so much business, and so a stranger don't have any confidence in him."

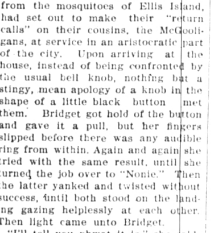

"Here, give me a half dozen bananas quick." "Now, what do you think of that?" "Why," said the prosperous member of the bar, "he thought you were earning an honest living. That's all."

RARE JOY FOR A FIEND.

Mean Man Causes Mix-Up of Two Messenger Boys. A small messenger boy ran down Fifth avenue this morning, carrying a blithesome tune, his small hat in place with all the more. Some distance behind him sped a second boy, likewise at peace with all creation, and what was he trotting on. Upon the road he had a bag of apples, nibbling a large apple, and apparently the last person in the world to pay any attention to the doings of a messenger. The messenger, however, with a malevolent grin, he raised his hand. The half-eaten apple whizzed through the air, passed over the head of the forward boy and landed in the old cattle of the Panama dalmatian or chief and were peacefully slumbering when suddenly a terrible explosion burst from the house. Five soldiers were killed and forty injured by this mysterious accident, which was due, it is said, to a quantity of powder that had been buried underneath the old cattle during the civil war of thirty years ago and been accidentally ignited. As enormous quantities of powder have been found buried round about, the soldiers have now removed to a safe place.

WORTH WHILE.

I never could abide the peaky folks who might and more. Keep 'tells' people that they wished they were in a book. An' for me, I'm glad I got a chance to have a look. The sploosh in the sunshine an' the radiance of the night. Make up a scene that strikes my fancy. I'll tell you what it is, it's a book. There ain't no doubt about it, it's a book. First Class Show.

Novelists as Statesmen. Jerome K. Jerome, who aspires to the British parliament and who is contenting the entire division of the world, is, of course, by no means the first novelist to seek parliamentary honors. But not many people nowadays remember that Thackeray once wooed the votes of the city of Oxford. Thackeray stood as an advanced radical and was badly beaten, owing probably to the fact that the men of Oxford could not be persuaded to take a mere novelist seriously. Anthony Hope, Sir Gilbert Parker and Sir Conan Doyle are other well-known novelists who have wooed constituencies in England.

Travel in Tripoli. The dangers of travel in Tripoli are thus described by United States Consul General Skinner of Marsailles: "There is always more or less risk involved in traveling. Mr. Dodson was accompanied by two Zaptias, sent by the governor-general, his own assistants, a head man of the town. They narrowly escaped being killed by a wandering tribe. This danger is more remote at Cyrene, as the natives of the government is acknowledged along the coast. However, it is always well to be provided with good, light sporting rifles."

ST. JACOBS OIL

In cases where bronchitis has become chronic from want of proper treatment in the early stages, St. Jacobs Oil is nothing so good as Dr. August Koening's Hamburg Breat Tea. In conjunction with which, St. Jacobs Oil is strongly advised. The use of St. Jacobs Oil is an outward application along the front of the throat, from close up under the chin to well down the neck. The oil is chest; the one remedy assists the other and as intended, they work in complete union. The wonderful penetrating power of St. Jacobs Oil enables it to reach the adhesion of foreign matter, which lines the bronchial tubes in which makes breathing more and more difficult. As these adhesions become more and more enlarged St. Jacobs Oil causes such adhesions to break away, making respiration easier and more free. Dr. August Koening's Hamburg Breat Tea, druggists and very hot, soothes and heals the parts, is comforting and quieting, stops the cough and relieves the breathing. This manner of treatment is in no other two similitudes that will work together. The oil reaches the adhesion and assists Dr. August Koening's Hamburg Breat Tea in clearing them; then both remedies act in unison in healing and curing. The oil of the adhesion and assists Dr. August Koening's Hamburg Breat Tea in clearing them; then both remedies act in unison in healing and curing. The oil of the adhesion and assists Dr. August Koening's Hamburg Breat Tea in clearing them; then both remedies act in unison in healing and curing.

WHAT MADE IT VALUABLE

Unique Explanation Made by Portuguese "Antiquarian." John C. Groom, captain of the First City troop, while in Porto Rico during the war with Spain, undertook to purchase some relics of historic interest. Every family had a relic, and he ran across a shrewd Portuguese who had been doing a thriving business as an "antiquarian" with other members of the troop, and bargaining at once began. The fellow's assurance was developed beyond anything Capt. Groom had ever seen encountered; and there was placed on display a fine array of jewelry, weapons, manuscript and old articles of attire that were originally the property of Christopher Columbus. He had shown a revolver of modern pattern, and rust encrusted, with the hammer snapped as though in the process of antiquating.

"You rogue!" exclaimed the Philadelphian, amused but irritated at having been called back. "It revolves were made in Columbus' day?" "SI, senior," replied the Portuguese, explained the Portuguese. "And that, gracious senior, is what makes this so rare." Philadelphia Ledger.

THE PENALTY OF PROGRESS

Is it anybody's business to keep count of the number of persons who die in the accidents from day to day in this country? The number must be enormous, and most of the victims die of modern improvements in our life. Railroads kill and maim as usual; automobiles do their worst; mines, factories, fires, explosions and the like contribute to extraordinary statistics to our mortality statistics. In the industrial world, especially, the sacrifice of human life is cheap, but cheap as it is American civilization seems unduly lavish in expending it.

Pleased With His Own Wit

H. M. C. Valder, vice president of the Account, Audit and Assurance company, took out his watch the other day and found that the gumbler was broken. He went into the nearest jeweler's, who was a stranger to him, and was told that he would have to wait the timepiece for about a week. "I wish you would loan me one to carry," said Mr. Valder. "For I am lost without it." "Yes," replied the jeweler, quickly, "but if I loaned you one you might get lost with it."

Helped Everybody

Gainesville, Tex., Oct. 27th.—Mrs. E. Burton, formerly of Eureka, Kansas, has been at the greatest of this city, for some time. While here Mrs. Burton has been the means of doing much good by introducing to speak well of Dodd's Kidney Pills, for they have done her much for her and her family. She says: "I must tell everybody that Dodd's Kidney Pills have done for me and for as many of my friends as have used them."

"I had a very bad case of kidney trouble for which I had been doctoring for a long time without benefit. I saw Dodd's Kidney Pills recommended. I tried them and was completely cured. My mother and my brother were ill and they took them and were soon well again. "Dodd's Kidney Pills have done much for us."

"No Gayboy has recovered?" "Yes, the lucky fellow was too poor to be operated on. A hundred times better are the men who do than the swabbings who only know."

GOVERNOR OF OREGON

Uses Pe-ru-na For Colds in His Family and Grip.

Pe-ru-na is known from the Atlantic to the Pacific. Letters of congratulation and commendation testify to the merits of Pe-ru-na as a catarrh remedy in all parts of the country. Dr. Hartman, U.S. Marshal, is receiving hundreds of such letters daily. All classes write these letters from the highest to the lowest. The outdoor laborer, the indoor artisan, the clerk, the editor, the statesman, the preacher—all agree that Pe-ru-na is the catarrh remedy of the age. The stages of catarrh, recognizing catarrh as their greatest enemy, are especially enthusiastic in their praise and testimony. It will be noticed that the Governor says he has not had occasion to use Pe-ru-na for other ailments. The reason for this is, most probably, that he is so healthy. Using Pe-ru-na to promptly cure colds, he protects his family against colds. This is exactly what every family should do. Pe-ru-na is the only family medicine in the world. It is the only family medicine in the world. It is the only family medicine in the world. It is the only family medicine in the world.
