A Lowell Woman Poisoned by a Headache Powder Sold Here Through the Mail—A Neighbor Narrowly Escapes a Similar Fate—Other Matters.

Lowell's Mystery.
Sheriff Chapman, Lowell, Mass., county, believes fully that Mrs. Ad. Klump, of Lowell, was murdered by a poison sent her through the mail. Some days Mrs. Klump was ill, and reported to be a headache powder by a firm at Savannah, N. Y. On Sunday, March 2, her husband went to his law office, and she intended to take his wife for a drive. Mrs. Klump complained of a headache, and told her husband that she would try one of the headache powders that she had received. When he returned to the house he found her lying motionless on the floor. Her stomach was analyzed in Grand Rapids and found to be half strychnine. A similar powder was received by Mrs. William Miller, a new Boston driver, who reported to be half strychnine.

Prince Henry's Manly Farewell Address at Philadelphia.

Prince Henry was present at a banquet given in his honor by prominent citizens at the Union League club, in Philadelphia, Monday, and made the following address:

"I was told before leaving home to be very friendly to the people of this country, and I have been absolutely no secret object in view connected with my mission. I have not had any special regard for you, and I have not had any special regard for you, and I have not had any special regard for you."
