M. Rajab Davois, a French naturalist, has shown that all pearls found in a common pearl-bearing motivat are cysts intolonic to the month of August, when few pearls are obtained, the thry young distonse, a fittlesh of an inch in diameter, are to be seen in stead as reddish yellow points. These become gradually costed with carbonate of lime, in an early stage appearing as black specks and inter as brite following summer, when they drop to pleces, and the parasite resumes activity and reproduces its kind. But if the parasite dies the crust continues to grow, a large and beautiful pearl being but the sarcophagus of a long-dead worm.

Captain Brand, of the Hespasia.
The young girl heard her companion make this declaration with an interest she did not attempt to conceal.

"Many times that thought has come to me, but I dismissed it as unworth has come to me, but I dismissed it as unworth has one to me, but I dismissed it as unworth has one to me, but I dismissed it as unworth has one to me, and he resembled the only picture I had of my father—that is, in a general way. You could not expect very much after his cruel years of hardship in the desert. Besides, he knew all about mamma's people on a closult of her marriage, and many little things connected with the past."

"I shall devote myself to the task of discovering the truth. Heaven alone knows who he is, or how he came guo such advantage, but I lintend to satisfy my curiosity in, that respect, at any cost."

"Something telle me you will succeed," she east eagerly, so that Charlie flushed with piesaure.

"I will go a great way toward assisting me, of course, you would be gratified should I find the means to expose him as an imposter?"

"So long as I still believe him, to he was able to exercise over his facial muscles.
Although he now had not the least doubt, as to the fellow being a fraud of the first water, Charile felt that he owed it to Arline's respect for fliai affection to prove this fact.
This was the task he cut out for hish lated his little trap.

"And Captain Nathaniel did his very best. If, as you say, he has been an actor, as well as a miner, sea captain, ocfice planter, speculator, and Heaven knows what not, he certainly had the chance of his life to bring out bravos. However, I don't think he took half as much interest in the fairli ras some of the rest of us did."

"He didn't, ea? I never knew he was acquainted with modesty. How was that?" askel Artemus, ageriy,
