Man is given a sense of humor to compensate man as the years rob him of enthusiasm.

Time was when on the announcement of a bank failure they used to ask "what's her name?"

Parliaments had 23,000 horses last year. Here we have a field where the automobile cannot hope to compete.

It is reported that a dulle woman wants a hairy Heben Gould. Now comes the supreme test of Heben's good sense.

Why doesn't some enterprising medium arrange an interview with Dr. Lesepes on recent events in Panama?

The man who stood on the bridge at midnight probably found it cheaper than sitting in at bridge at the same hour.

If it is true that the greatest happiness is in having enough, the man with seven daughters should be oh, so joyful.

The Brooklyn Eagle thinks current carrying at Patti is due to the "autistic pessimism of the superstitious few."

There has been stolen one of the big bronze gates of Central Park, New York, but at last accounts the obelisk has not been taken.

When New York society leaders fall out the wonderful world learns that being in the smart set doesn't dull the edge of a lady's tongue.

A woman strike sympathizer threw a lot of water in Chicago the other day. It is not known what shop woman suffered in consequence.

"People are seldom satisfied with small favors," remarks of the philosopher. "What fun is there in kissing a girl if you can't muss her hair?"

The enthusiasm which Jaron and Cassia are showing for police causes a suspicion that there must be a stock of damp powder in the bar.

Even when she lay under for a man under the bed and found none there, it makes a woman blush to think how awkward it would be for her if there was one—New York Press.

GLASS HOUSE OBSERVATIONS.

People who live in glass houses should wear plenty of clothes.

It is only after we have learned to control our moods that happiness becomes a possibility.

A little learning is a dangerous thing—but too much knowledge has at times been found to be somewhat disastrous, also.

Our Trade Magnet

We have been found it necessary to resort to petty commercial tricks in order to secure customers. Before we recognize the fact that no customer is of so great value to a store unless he has absolute confidence in its goods and services. We therefore, try to gain and maintain trade by seeing that they are supplied with the best goods obtainable. We saving ourselves no expense in every way, and by making prices as low as we can consistently with business. The result is that we have permanent customers. We want your trade and if you will give us an opportunity to show you what we can do for you, we are sure you will find abundant reason for making this your family store.
