Crusses Fitted Perfectly

Manufacturers of Crusses can say what they will, we know that the same make of crusses does not fit all persons equally well. Different persons call for different kinds of crusses. We have all kinds and we fit every person perfectly. That is why our crusses have such a reputation for ease and comfort. It is because we pick the right crusses for each particular case and then adjust it until the fit is perfect. Come in and talk the matter over with us. We guarantee satisfaction on every cruss or money refunded.

THE E. M. P. C. OUTING.

Four Days of Pleasure Secured for the Eastern Michigan Press Club.

One of the finest and best outings of the Eastern Michigan Press Club have yet enjoyed, was participated in last week by over one hundred members of said body, who were taken up about Press Club whose president is F. S. Neal of the Northville Record and whose secretary is W. H. Marvin of the Utica Sentinel, through whose earnest work and efforts this pleasant trip was made possible.

Through the kindness of Mr. A. F. Wolfelager the General Passenger and Ticket Agent of the Wabash R. R. at Detroit, two fine coaches (chair cars) were placed at the disposal of our club and with more than ample room for the whole number of the members the club started for St. Louis, Mo., and the Louisiana Purchase Exposition grounds, Thursday morning of last week. Leaving through Detroit at six o'clock a. m. Whitehead and George H. Mitchell and wife kindly assisted by L. Harnack and Frank McHugh and their auto on the D. U. R. we were promptly landed at the Exposition in Detroit at a little after five of the crowd which commenced at once to fall in. The boys were all out and had brought their wife and a few, some youngsters. After a little unavoidable delay the unrivaled Continental Hotel of the Wabash R. R. started on its southern and western trip. Old friends met each other with a hearty handshake and a glad word, new friendships were formed and a happier, jollier crowd of editors never before started out on a good time under a more auspicious beginning than did the E. M. P. C.—and they were not disappointed either.

General Passenger Agent A. F. Wolfelager and E. S. Greenwood, Chief Passenger Agent of Chicago, were with us and took great care of the club through to St. Louis. Both of these gentlemen were genial, pleasant, wholesome men, who every moment were studying the wants and wishes of our guests and they represent in a way the feeling toward the public that this company does. 'Twixt you and I, we think that both of these gentlemen would make good editors.

Thinking about the great Exposition next year at St. Louis, Mo., do you realize that the Wabash is our only direct way to reach the Exposition grounds and St. Louis, Mo. This is the beautiful Erie Harbor division, Detroit division, Eastern division, Midwestern and Western division, covers just 2484 miles and is hardly known in this neck of the woods.

Such was the first day of spelling Wabash. It now spells quick time and excellent service in all directions. The Wabash observation cars, cafe cars, seat eighteen persons in public cafe and eight in private section while the library and smoking room in the cafe cars seats fourteen persons. These cars are the finest that can be made and comprise all possible comforts to travelers.

The Wabash line runs through Forest Park, the beautiful site selected for the World's Fair, and passengers by this line will be delivered directly at the main entrance to the World's Fair.

You remember the old lady who said, "I'm not a quitter and I'm not a quitter." Here are a few comparisons of International Exposition that are wonderful:

- Centennial Exposition at Philadelphia covered 328 acres.
- Paris, France, Exposition covered 336 acres.
- Columbian Exposition at Chicago covered 632 acres.
- St. Louis Louisiana Purchase Exposition will cover 1,200 acres.
- Centennial Exposition at Philadelphia cost of construction, $8,500,000.
- Paris, France, Exposition, cost of construction, $6,000,000.
- Columbian Exposition at Chicago, cost of construction, $18,332,000.
- St. Louis Louisiana Purchase Exposition, estimated cost of construction, $40,000,000.
- Pan-American Exposition at Buffalo covered 350 acres and cost $10,000,000.
- Before the Exposition gates are open the city of St. Louis will have expended the enormous sum of $25,000,000. Of this amount $5,000,000 was appropriated to the Fair through the Municipal Assembly, but citizens raised $5,000,000 additionally by private subscription and by popular vote and special election charges.
- Edwin E. R. Bloomer, of Sparta, Mich., climbed inside our engine and did some fancy stoking and our train covered 75 miles in just 75 minutes, with three slow-downs in the run.
- We arrived in St. Louis at about nine o'clock, everybody in a "fine and dandy" condition. Some carried a lunch and those who did not were most bountifully provided in the dining car at popular prices and with perfect satisfaction. W. H. Marvin, "the little father," had made arrangements with a Laclede Hotel proceeded there nearly all of the club at once. It was easily reached and here the club was housed and homed for three days to their complete satisfac-

Some Suggestions For Boys' Parents

Just two, but there are so many we could mention that would benefit them that it was difficult to decide on these.

Suggesting the things that are to be found in our BOYS' DEPARTMENT is as hard as it is when one has a great deal to tell about—your don't know just where to begin.

There are two single and DOUBLE BREASTED SUITS—Knee Trousers—Boys of 12 to 15 years—we've named them. "The Travel Special Suit" simply because they are extraordinary values—on fact they are special in every sense of the word, in design, in cut, in appearance and in making. More worth for the money never was fabric.

But you'll be better able to judge their values after an inspection.

Your choice is not limited to four or five lines, but to over twenty, and each one is as good as the other.

There are suits of fine Blue Serge, Blue and Black Chevrons, Light Homspuns, and the nearest mimicked Cheviots we've ever shown. All are the one price say a word about John Grant who was formerly superintendent of the street cleaning system in Detroit. He placed a number of his best carriages on disposal, without money and without price.

In the afternoon some of the crowd went to inspect the inland type foundry which made our very pleasant indeed and others strolled about the docks and went on trolley rides to East St. Louis and its famous stock yards and in the evening the theatres and other places of amusement were patronized and on Sunday morning the crowd, with a very few exceptions, gathered at the Union Depot, where they found the same spacious chair cars ready for them on the Wabash tracks and the Continental Express, the liver of the system, yanked us back to Detroit again in excellent shape and everybody in good humor and fine health. There wasn't a bug on the vine and of all the people's junkets we ever attended this particular one certainly captured the cookery. And now we have our noses on the gridiron again but are thinking between times that Bro. Marvin, the Exposition Commission, the St. Louis people in general and the Wabash in particular are all badliners and not to be beaten.

As we neared Detroit and the conglomeration of values, suit-cases, bags and parcels were gathered together and manhandling and good byes were in order, we felt as if we were taking the breaking up of a big family and one brother of the gang so far forgot? himself or his wife that he kissed another man's wife good bye. There seldom occurs a larger gathering of men there in some unpleasant occurrence, an accident or an incident, some one sick or worse for ozone, but this was an exceptional occasion and there is nothing to our trip to St. Louis and the Exposition.

TIPS ON THE TRIP.

A fine photo of the party was the central point of interest of the first page of the St. Louis Democrat, April 11th. It created a sensation.

But few of our party had ever seen the "Mighty Father of Waters." It was mighty nasty and muddy.

Brother Marvin was the life of the party going down. He had to return via Chicago much to our mutual regret.

Saturday was right hot and the men folks shed their overcoats, then their vests and "old Patsy" was in his shirt sleeves half the way home.

The Y. M. C. A. of St. Louis held very fine and interesting meetings each evening while a large gathering of the boys folks but the ladies left their religion at home and went to the theatre.
