The Finest Entertainment that Has Come to Us in Years.

A treat is in store for Birmingham Friday evening, June 19, when members of the Detroit Training School Alumni Dramatic Club will present the two farces, "Just for Fun," and "Poor Pilly-caddy."

C. Chaffer, Noble, and principal of the Detroit Training School of Elocution and English Literature; Mrs. Mildred A. Bolt, principal of the Detroit School of Expression, who has often delighted Birmingham audiences with her recitations; Mrs. Emma Burtra-Kavler, director of the E. B. R. School of Elocution, and English Literature, who Birmingham people know as teacher and coach for the High School pupils for several seasons; Miss Alice Finley, who has made a name for herself conducting the popular entertainment known as "The Old Mands' Concert;" and W. S. Bolt, a Clear Hill, both of whom are favorite amateur actors.

THE TIGER GROWS.
Money is no object; most of us believe it a myth.
Most girls close their eyes when they are kissed; do you blame them?
The poor eye always with you—often so close that they touch you.
Politeness is the salt of life; you hate to have it rubbed into you when you are cut up.
It does not make it right to do what you ought not to do when you don't do what you ought to do.

A lot of people who should be spending good time getting good money spend good money getting a good time.
It is all very well to get a good start, but the start you get when some cool puts his cool hands down, your neck may be too good—Princeton Tiger.

MERE OPINION.
The redder cart isn't always pulled by the happiest boy.
No woman ever really got mad at a man for calling her a flirt.

The man who marries above himself must expect to be treated like a non-union laborer.

How weary we all are of the person who finds "nothing is good as it used to be," forgetting that the moonlight of old age beautifies everything as it becomes a part of the background of life.

Some men keep their show of good breeding as an accessory for their frock or dinner coat just as though they were afraid of exhausting the supply by use during business hours.

MOTHER PLATO SAYS:
The greatness of a man is judged by the obstacles he has overcome; the greatness of a woman by her children.

Paint Economy

NO ONE doubts the fact that the best paint made is the most economical to use. No one would attempt to economize by applying a cheap paint if he positively knew it lacked in wearing qualities. But many are deceived by the false claims made by the manufacturers of untoward goods who can well afford to sell their products at seemingly low prices.
DETROIT WHITE LEAD WORKS BEST MIXED PAINT is a paint at a right price. It contains no whitening, barytes, china clay, silica or adulterant of any sort. No paint can be purer or more durable. When you buy this paint you are not experimenting; it has been sold for years and has constantly grown in favor.
