

HORTICULTURE

Starting the Cherry Orchard. Mr. A. D. Barnes, in an address, said: Do not make the mistake of having cherry trees grow on sprouts on their own roots.

Pick Off the Bag Worms. The trees are beginning to get bare and it will soon be easy to pick off the bag worms.

Nut Bearing Trees. Most of our people take little interest in the growing of nuts, and it is rather remarkable that in the light of this we should still have the amount of nuts on the market we do.

Root Rot of Apple Trees. In some of the Western states root rot is becoming a great source of annoyance to the orchardists.

New Diseases Develop. We have a development among fruits and vegetables, and we regard as quite remarkable the changes we are able to make in certain things.
