Cloth Is Bullet Proof

The world is at present intensely interested in a new Italian bulletproof cloth, and since the Italian government is negotiating for its use it is of importance that we see just what the results are, although it is necessary to importance that we see just what the results are, although it is necessary to state that the invention remains a secret, and this notwithstanding at tempts to discover its details. Thus we shall have to deal with a general description and with the results of experiments.
