TRUSSES

THE RIGHT KIND TO BUY.

you can buy Trusses for almost nothing, or you can pay a very high price for them; but the price of a Truss does not prove that it is going to be the Truss which you need. Every case has to be fitted individually. That is where we have our big success with Trusses. No one goes out of our store with a Truss that does not fit perfectly. Therefore a great many people are wearing our Trusses and sending their friends to us for Trusses. If you are wearing a Truss and it does not feel right or stay in the right place come in and see us about it We will tell you whether it is the right Truss for you to wear.

SOME NEW FACTS ABOUT APPENDICITIS.

Why None Need Fear If Careful.

Hospital records indicate that nearly one-third of all surgical operations are for appendicitis, and the unfortunate feature is that eighty per cent. could have been avoided altogether.

The old theory about grapes and other seeds has been exploded, and any good doctor will tell you nowadays that constipation causes appendicitis almost without exception.

The opening into the appendix is no larger than the head of a darning-needle, but if the least foreign substance enters, inflammation ensues, and there is sure to be trouble.

Constipation and appendicitis will never trouble you if your bowels are regulated with Laxakola.

"Constipation: Its Cause and Cure," a little treatise worth golden dollars, is wrapped around every 25 cent bottle.

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of those important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet telling all about it including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper.

SCIENCE AND INVENTION

New Ice-Making Machine.

A new ice-making machine, constructed entirely of metal, consisting of two parts, very simple and compact, has been introduced in France. One part, hermetically closed, contains the mechanism, and the other is the ice producer. The latter is a large cage, which is a foot by a foot and a half, is run by hand or one-eighth horsepower motor, and makes 4.4 pounds of ice an hour. One 40x80 inches, with four horsepower, makes 220 pounds an hour. The principal feature of the machine is that the ice is produced without the aid of any ingredients or preparations of any kind. Whatever requisite is needed for its operation is supplied at the time of its manufacture. Once the machine is delivered it produces ice as long as the metal work used in its construction holds out, and this is of such a character as to last many years.

Handy Liquid Heater.

When a man is at home and wants hot water he goes to the faucet and draws it or else pours it from the kettle on the stove, but the same man sitting to get hot water at a hotel or boarding house is another story.

Electricity has done so much for humanity in recent years that it seems impossible there can be many new uses left for it; but still handy articles like this one continue to make their appearance. This arrangement consists of a porcelain tube, having a spiral groove on its surface, in which a platinum wire is wound; the whole being covered by a metallic tube insulated from the wire and finished with a wooden handle and a wire leading to a plug, to be inserted in an incandescent electric lamp socket. It is obvious that when the current is switched into the wire it will pass over the spiral platinum wire and heat it almost to a redness through the resistance it offers, thus warming a pitcher of water in a few minutes by simply inserting the heater in the pitcher. This device can be carried in a small satchel and is always ready for use wherever an incandescent electric lamp can be found.

The inventor is Fernan O. Cahill, of Roxbury, Mass.

Negro's Clever Invention.

A negro of St. Joseph, Mo., announces that he has solved the problem of producing heat and power without combustion. Charles S. L. Baker is the inventor's name. He has a hot water heater in operation, having worked for twenty-three years to complete it.

By means of friction heat is conveyed into an air or water chamber whence the hot air, hot water, or steam is conveyed, by means of ordinary pipes and radiators, to the place where it is to be used.

There are two complete systems, one of hot water radiation and the other of steam radiation, now connected with this one heater, and the heater can be instantly changed from a hot water boiler to a steam boiler. With the water in the boiler and the entire hot water heating plant cold, it is possible to heat radiators in less than one-half the time that hot water radiators can be heated by any other known process.

With the water in the boiler and all the steam radiators cold, it is possible to heat steam radiators and show ten pounds pressure on the steam gauge in less than one-half the time that it can be done by any other process.

After the steam gauge begins to show pressure the steam pressure rises at the rate of a pound a minute. This is a remarkable performance. After the steam has reached the desired pressure its further rise is automatically prevented.

This heater may be used for producing heat or power. The same heater may be used for either low pressure or high pressure steam. The limitations which apply to ordinary steam boilers are not applicable to the friction heater.

Durability of Liquid Air.

An experiment for the purpose of testing the durability of liquid air has been made between Berlin and Geneva. One morning two quarts of liquid air were delivered to the railroad at Berlin, packed in a manner specially adapted for this purpose, for transportation to Geneva. The shipment arrived in Geneva in five days, and after an additional delay of half a day it was delivered to the chemical laboratory of the University of Geneva. The glass vessel in which the liquid air was sent still contained one-fourth of a quart thereof, which was at once experimented with.

Flying-Machine Ideals.

Anyone who has studied the flight of birds cannot fail to have noticed that many of them do not appear to exert as much energy in flying as a small animal does in running. The motor car and the locomotive are able to run three or four times as fast as any animal is only able to run one. Why then should we not make a flying machine that will outfly the swiftest bird?—Interview with Sir Hiram Maxim.
