

Rear Admiral Hichborn Recommends Pe-ru-na.

Phillip Hichborn, Rear Admiral United States Navy, writes from Washington, D. C., as follows:

"After the use of Pe-ru-na for a short period, I can now cheerfully recommend your valuable remedy to any one who is in need of an invigorating tonic."—Phillip Hichborn.

No remedy ever yet devised has received such "unfettered" enjoyment from so many renowned statesmen and military men as Pe-ru-na.

Our army and navy are the natural protectors of our country. Pe-ru-na is the natural protection of the army and navy in the vicissitudes of climate and exposure.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Pe-ru-na, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

Service Checked Her.

A certain noble family in Scotland adopted the Episcopalian faith and carried out its ideas regardless of expense. On the first instance of the full choir service into the local church the great lady who had been active in the work was anxious that a favorite woman servant of hers—a Presbyterian of the old school—should have an opportunity of hearing the service. Accordingly she took her down to church in the carriage and on returning asked the old woman what she thought of the music. "Oh, it's verra hoary, but, oh, my lady, it's an awful' way of spending the Sabbath!"

Fought Over Mine Pie.

A farmer residing in Adams county, Pa., caused the arrest of a neighbor for having entered his kitchen and taken from the stove and eaten a large and juicy mine pie. The offending neighbor was held to answer by the justice. That official remarked that he regretted that a mine pie should disturb life-long relations between friends and create another war near a battlefield (Gettysburg) that is already sufficient history.

Where Stanley Worked as a Boy.

Where Stanley worked as a boy, I remember in 1890, when we were staying in Cincinnati together, his asking me to go with him to his home in the city. He took me through obscure back streets and down dirty alleys until we reached a wharf on the Ohio river. He stopped at the bottom of a street, which ran steeply down to the river, and pointed out a building which was a large cask of tallow from a cellar down to the wharf. He said: "I have brought you here because I wanted to show you this place. It was in this street that I worked as a boy. I was doing exactly the same work as that lad, and if I mistake not that is the same place where you worked." (Reminiscences of Sir Henry Sturges in Scribner's.)

An Entertaining Sleuth.

A man who was "wanted" by the police had been photographed in six different positions, and the pictures were duly circulated among the police. The chief of police in a country town wrote to police headquarters of the city in search of the malefactor a few days after the set of portraits had been issued as follows:

"I duly received the pictures of the six microfilms whose capture is desired. I have arrested five of them, and the sixth is under observation and will be secured shortly."—Philadelphia Police Ledger.

WILES OF THE VAMPIRE.

Never Awakes its Victim While it Draws the Blood.

Night brought us to the miserable poor village. Publishers say a writer, and as we would get no accommodation in the case called we were obliged to sleep in our hammocks.

The place swarmed with mosquitoes, and while Tipoco slept soundly, across and built a fire in whose smoke the mosquitoes died. If Tipoco was immune to the plague of mosquitoes he did not escape a more serious pest. When he awoke in the morning his great toe was still bleeding and his hammock was stained with clotted blood.

Nobody in Yucatan could explain to me how the vampire managed to draw such a large quantity of blood—from six to ten ounces, while his victim all the time remains in a profound sleep. I have never heard of any one waking while the vampire had imbibed his victim's blood. I have heard, however, of a surgeon draw blood that the patient by some mysterious process is lulled into a profound sleep.

The vampire measures about two feet from wing tip to wing tip, has very sharp teeth, not unlike those of a rat, and attacks sleeping animals to put away all other medicines and to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It is a fatal disease, and it is a fatal disease, and it is a fatal disease.

Miss Nellie Holmes, treasurer of the Young Woman's Temperance Association of Buffalo, N. Y., strongly advises all suffering women to rely, as she did, upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MR. PINKHAM:—Your medicine is indeed an ideal woman's medicine, and by far the best I know to restore lost health and strength. I suffered many years, being troubled with menorrhagia. My back ached, I had bearing-down pains and frequent headaches. I would often wake from restless sleep, and in such pain that I suffered for hours before I could go to sleep again. I cured the long nights as much as the weary days. I consulted two different physicians, hoping to get relief, but finding that their medicine did not seem to cure me, I tried your Vegetable Compound on the recommendation of a friend from the East who was visiting me. I am glad that I followed her advice, for every ache and pain is gone, and not only this, but my general health is much improved. I have a good appetite and have gained in flesh. My earnest advice to suffering women is to put away all other medicines and to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Miss NELLIE HOLMES, 540 No. Division St., Buffalo, N. Y.

Miss Irene Crosby, prominent in Social Life in East Savannah, Ga., adds her testimonial to the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MR. PINKHAM:—I have always given me pleasure to find an article of real value and unquestioned merit. I have found Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound well calculated to relieve and cure the various troubles arising from irregularities and menstrual pain. Much suffering could be spared if only more attention to proper living and diet, but as long as women do not do this, your Vegetable Compound has come to the front as a true friend. I have been very pleased indeed with the relief it has brought me. I find that I have perfect health now, and that my mind is also more clear and active since I used your Vegetable Compound. I have been of great benefit to me, and I gladly recommend it. Very sincerely yours, Miss IRENE CROSBY, 313 East Charlton St., East Savannah, Ga."

Accidents of the strain of lifting that brought on kidney trouble and back pain, but since using Doan's Kidney Pills I have not felt the trouble back since, although I had been for six or eight years, and other remedies had not helped me at all."
