Possible Explanation.

"What do you suppose Shakespeare meant by Cleopatra's 'infinite variety?' asked the literary boarder.
"The infinite variety of the ancients," replied the baldheaded bachelor, 'is believed to have been synonymous with the continuous vaudeville of to-day."

Miss B.—So you are a graduate of the school for brides. Do you think the instruction amounts to much?

Salmon Dammed Stream.
A heavy full of more in Scotland a few weeks and canded a living Tay to rise suddenly. One of the big dams in the stream overfrowed with the result that the salmon lying in the numerous pools at once made a rush to get higher up the stream. A work-to be suffered to the stream overfrowed with the moving mass of salmon passing, so phenomenal was the shoot that the carter deemed it wise to stop his charge in the middle of the ford to allow the lish to pass. The salmon wheels of the cart and around the horse's legs. In the space of a tew ministes several hundreds passed this particular point.
