

HOSPITALS CROWDED
MAJORITY OF PATIENTS WOMEN

Mrs. Pinkham's Advice saves Many from this Sad and Costly Experience.

It is a sad but every year the number of women who are suffering from the various ailments of the female system is increasing. It is a sad but every year the number of women who are suffering from the various ailments of the female system is increasing.

white beds are women and girls who are awaiting or recovering from operations made necessary by neglect.

Every one of these patients had plenty of warning that their condition was such that they would have to be confined to the hospital, nervous exhaustion, pain in the womb, nervous depression, dizziness, fainting, displacements of the womb or irregularities. All of these symptoms are indications of the unhealthy condition of the ovaries of the womb, and if not checked the trouble will make headway until the position has to be paid by a dangerous operation, and a lifetime of impaired health.

It is a sad but every year the number of women who are suffering from the various ailments of the female system is increasing.

Just as surely as Mrs. Adams was cured of the troubles enumerated in her letter, just so surely will Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cure every woman in the land who suffers from womb troubles, inflammation of the ovaries, kidney troubles, nervous excitability and nervous prostration.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all young women who are ill to write her or write before. Address, Lynn, Mass.

CHAPTER XXVII—Continued.

Before Hawk's party and treated with a turn affairs had taken and reconsidered his refusal of Hawk's aid. "Make no proposition to me, Hawk," said Louis. "I think it is a reasonable one, I will accept it."

"Too late now," Hawk replied. "You are no longer a man of honor, and I will not have you as an ally."

"Not by a long shot!" retorted Hawk. "You engineered it or—"

"I have the bulge either way," Hawk replied. "If Schiller is to be the leader of the riot, if the convicts are in power, I have the plate to protect it."

Louis was about to reply to Hawk, when he felt someone cut his bonds. He never turned to see who it was, but he was well aware of the fact that he was being freed.

CHIMNEY-EMPTIES FOUR FLUES.
Takes Smoke from Open Fireplaces, Cook Stove and Heaters.

In a house with four rooms the inner corners of which adjoin closely, how can a chimney be built so that it will serve an open fireplace in one room and also take the smoke from a cook stove in next room? Also could it be fixed to take the smoke from heaters in third and fourth rooms? What quantity of materials will be required?

To build fireplace and chimney, see the accompanying plan. The fireplace flue is drawn over into the kitchen stove flue, and the one flue for the two heaters is drawn into a complete and permanent curb, (Signed) Mrs. M. C. Matting, Jasper, Okla.

Silence With Onself.
One should cultivate silence with oneself, for it is only thus that one may occasion the blooming of those evanescent yet eternal flowers whose form and color vary in accordance with the soul to which they grow.

$100 Reward, $100.
The readers of this paper will please be advised that there is a reward of $100 for the discovery of a cure for cancer.

Tobacco and Wisdom.
Love of tobacco and wisdom often go together. Prince Bismarck was wont to boast that he had in some of his fifty years consumed over 100,000 cigars, and that works out an average of five a day—no great feat perhaps for one who was a chimney the size mentioned it will take about two thousand bricks.

Laying a Concrete Floor.
Place over the existing of a stable floor of cement, broken stones and gravel. How much slope should the stairs have? How much floor will one barrel of cement lay?

Before laying a concrete floor grade the earth to the shape of four inches higher than the ground outside of the stable, so that the water will not cause the floor to be damp.

Now mix the concrete in one part of gravel to one part of Portland cement. Put two inches of concrete on the gutter, and another two inches on the gutter, filling in with concrete the same as for the bottom of the gutter.

BADLY CAME NEAR DYING.
From an Awful Skin Humour—Scratched Till the Skeleton—Wasted by the Skeleton—Specially Cured by Cuticura.

"When three months old my boy broke out with a itching, watery rash all over his body, and he would scratch all the blood raw. We tried nearly everything, but he grew worse, wasting to a skeleton, and we feared he would die. He slept only when in our arms. The first application of Cuticura soothed him so that he slept in his cradle for the first time in many weeks. One set of Cuticura made a complete and permanent cure. (Signed) Mrs. M. C. Matting, Jasper, Okla."

SIMPLE TESTS OF SMARTNESS.
According to Great French Scientist They Are Infallible.

A great French scientist has given some very useful little pieces of advice to those who have to engage clerks for business purposes or servants for domestic affairs. To ascertain the abilities of an applicant cook, ask the man who desires to be hired a dish to whip up to steam, stir, and watch how she moves her hand in either process. If she moves it from left to right she may as well be useful; but if the other way, be sure she is stupid and useless. So, too, with the man who desires to be hired as a penman. Start him a piece of paper and a pencil, and ask him to draw a circle. If he starts to draw from left to right, he is smart, and be trusted; in other words, spontaneous centrifugal movements are characteristic of intelligence and high development, while centripetal are indicative of incompetence.

Simple Cure for Neuralgia.
The physician was talking of a simple neuralgia cure—one that would be said, done up the nerves and scratch the blood. The remedy is five cents worth of carbonate of iron, said he, and the dose is a pinch in a teaspoonful of molasses taken right just when the patient is ready for bed. Take it till the pain ceases and that will generally be after the third night. There is no disagreeable taste and no larger to the teeth, since carbonate of iron is not of the acid family. It appears to be a soluble form and that is more than can be said of some iron medicines where the ingredient intended to enrich the blood passes through the body without entering the circulation.

Salt Along the Congo.
Along the central part of the Congo river there are a number of salt marshes. The Africans dig shallow holes in these, whence brine streams of hot water which, on being evaporated, leaves a residue of salt.

I am sure three or four years ago. Mrs. Adams was cured of the troubles enumerated in her letter, just so surely will Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cure every woman in the land who suffers from womb troubles, inflammation of the ovaries, kidney troubles, nervous excitability and nervous prostration.
