WOMEN NOT TRUTHFUL

This Statement Has Been Unjustly Made, Because Modest Women Evade Questions Asked By Male Physicians.

An eminent physician says that "Women are not truthful; they will lie to their physician." This statement should be qualified; women do tell the truth, but not the whole truth, to a male physician, but this is only in regard to those painful and troublesome disorders peculiar to their sex.

There can be no more terrible ordeal to a delicate, sensitive, refined woman than to be obliged to answer certain questions when those questions are asked, even by her family physician. This is especially the case with unmarried women.

Is it any wonder, then, that women continue to suffer and that doctors fail to cure female diseases when they cannot get the proper information to work on?

This is the reason why thousands and thousands of women are now corresponding with Mrs. Pinkham. To her they can and do give every symptom, so that she really knows more about the true condition of her patients, through her correspondence with them than the physician who personally questions them.

If you suffer from any form of trouble peculiar to women, write at once to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., and she will advise you free of charge.

The fact that this great boon, which is extended freely to women by Mrs. Pinkham, is appreciated, the thousands of letters received by her prove. Many such grateful letters as the following are constantly pouring in.

Mrs. Ella Lee, Frankford, Ind., writes: Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I want to thank you for what your medicine has done for me.

"Three years ago I had inflammation of the ovaries and ulcers on my womb. I was under the doctor's care for about three months, and the only time I was not in pain was when under the influence of morphine. The doctor finally said I never would be better, and would be an invalid the rest of my life. I had given up in despair, but one evening I came across one of your advertisements and decided to write you for advice. I did so and commenced to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I began to improve at once, and to-day I am a well woman, and I know it is all due to your advice and medicine.

Mrs. J. H. Farmer of 2806 Elliott Avenue, St. Louis, Mo., writes: Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I cannot thank you enough for what your advice and medicines have done for me. They have done me more good than all the doctors I ever had.

"For the last eight years I have suffered with female troubles; was very weak; had nervous prostration, and could not do my work; but I am happy to say Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has made a different woman of me. I am in perfect health and have gained in weight from 96 pounds to 122 pounds."

No other medicine in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement. No other medicine has such a record for actual cures as female ills as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

LONDON'S LORDMAYOR

HIS POSITION ONE OF HIGH HONOR AND DIGNITY.

Elaborate Ceremonies and Formalities Surround the Head of the World's Greatest City—Takes Precedence of All but the Sovereign.

Perhaps no office to which a man is elected by the people has more attendant glories than that of Lord Mayor of London. It is also surrounded with the most elaborate formalities. He has gowns of scarlet, violet and black for various occasions, and a train bearer. The Lady Mayoress has maids of honor and per train is borne by pages in costume. In the city the Mayor takes precedence immediately after the sovereign. A quaint feudal ceremony, which was strictly observed in the late Queen's Jubilee, in 1897, is that of handing the sword of state to the sovereign at the Temple Bar. The Lord Mayor has a choice of four swords—the sword of state, for supreme occasions; the pearl sword, for ceremonial occasions, and the black sword, carried when there is a death in the royal family and when attending funeral ceremonies. The fourth sword is held above the Lord Mayor's chair in the Criminal court. Then there are other emblems of office—the diamond sceptre, the seal, the purse and the mace. They play an important part in the inaugural ceremonies of the Mayor. The City Chamberlain, with three obeisances, presents the scepter to the retiring Mayor. He, in turn, delivers it to his successor, who lays it on the table in front of him. The Chamberlain retires with three more bows, to return with the seal—and three more reverences. The purse is similarly presented. Further ceremonies follow from the sword bearer, who renders up the sword. The mace bearer also gives up the mace in a similar way. The retiring Lord Mayor then surrenders the keys of the coffer in which the seal is kept. There are three keys; of the other two one is held by the Chamberlain, the second by the chairman of the Lands committee. To unlock the coffer all three must be produced. This cremonial has great historic interest. It implies the sovereign power and authiority in ancient times of the chief magistrate of the city. The scepter, sword and mace are emblems of royalty. The Lord Mayor was a merchant prince in fact as well as in name. He is still, by virtue of his office, admiral of the port of London, gauger of wine and oil and other gaugable articles; "meter" of coal, grain, salt and fruit, and clerk of markets and butter, soap, cheese and other articles coming into the port of London. Of course these duties are performed by deputy. Other dignified offices which he holds are governor of four hospitals, trustee of St. Paul's Cathedral and magistrate in several places.

Changed His Mind.

Little Tommy had brought the teacher a handsome bouquet of roses, and as she placed it on her desk his little heart swelled with pride. During the morning session she had occasion to correct and punish him for some infraction of the rules and he went back to his seat very much disconcerted, not to say humbled, in spirit. He thought it all over, and at the close of the session presented himself before the teacher.

"Well, Tommy?"

"You know those roses I gave you?"

"Yes."

"Well, I didn't give them to you. I only let you take them."—Boston Record.

Attorney Jerome's Simple Life.

Although District Attorney Jerome belongs to one of the oldest and most distinguished families in New York and holds a membership in five of the most fashionable clubs, he prefers to live in a little flat over on the east side. At home he leads the simple life and in the office he leads the strenuous life. He has no time for billiards or cards, but makes his own breakfast and broils a steak or a chicken for a guest. When his clocks or electric bells get out of order Mr. Jerome fixes them himself. He has a fine set of tools and prides himself on his skill as a mechanic. Mr. Jerome also is a skilled drink mixer.

New Theory on Copper Production.

E. L. Hewes, Jr., who is at present confined in St. Ann's hospital in Anaconda, Mont., is a geologist and metallurgist and has some new ideas relative to the subterranean flow of copper solution that he believes will be of benefit to the world and materially add to mineral production. Mr. Hewes was called upon to submit to a delicate surgical operation. Fearing he might not survive, he wrote an article on the subject mentioned, turned it over to a local paper and then went to the hospital. His chances of recovery are good.

PERSONALITY OF "AUTOCRAT."

Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes Described by One Who Knew Him.

Mrs. Rebecca Harding Davis writes of Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes: "Physically, he was a very small man, holding himself erect—his face insignificant as his figure, except for a long obstinate upper lip ('left to me,' he said one day, 'by some ill-conditioned great-grandmother'), and eyes full of a wonderful fire and sympathy. No one on whom Dr. Holmes had once looked with interest ever forgot the look—or him. He attracted all kinds of people as a brilliant, excitable child would attract them. But nobody, I suspect, ever succeeded in being familiar with him. I remember one evening that he quoted one of his poems, and I was forced stupidly to acknowledge that I did not know it. He fairly jumped to the bookcase, took out the volume and read the verses, standing in the middle of the room, his voice trembling, his whole body thrilling with their meaning. 'There!' he cried at the end, his eyes flashing, 'could anybody have said that better? Ah-h!' with a long in-drawn breath of delight as he put the book back."

A Secret.

It is often very desirable to know how to seal a letter so that it cannot be opened without betraying the fact. Steam or hot water will open envelopes closed with mucilage and even a wafer. A hot iron or a spirit lamp dissolves sealing wax, an impression in plaster having been taken of the seal. By the combined use of water and sealing wax, however, all attempts to open the letter otherwise than by force can be frustrated. All that is necessary is to close the letter first with a small moist wafer and to pierce the latter with a coarse needle (the same applies to mucilage), whereupon sealing wax may be used in the usual manner. This seal can neither be opened by dry heat nor by moisture.

What "So Long" Means.

"You may have wondered, perhaps, how the slang expression, 'so long,' came to be so generally used," said a Columbia college lecturer the other day, "and is always used in closing a conversation, and is simply a form of good-by. The Norwegians brought it to this country. In that land of the midnight sun, 'san laeng' is a common form of farewell. It means the same as the au revoir of the French. Among the early settlers in America were many Norwegians, and the phrase was picked up from them. They pronounce it with the 'g' softened and accompany it by a wave of the hand.

Provided for Pet Alligator.

Some twenty years ago a rich South American died who left a considerable sum of money in trust for a pet alligator, which for some years had lived in a small artificial lake which had been made in his owner's grounds for the purpose, the special provision being that his scales were to be cleaned at least twice per annum, and he was to be well fed, and when ill to have the attention of a veterinary surgeon.

SEEDING IN PROGRESS IN WESTERN CANADA.

Mild Weather Is Bringing Thousands of Settlers.

The splendid yields of wheat, oats and barley produced by the farmers of Western Canada and the excellent prices received for the same, have been the means of giving an increased interest throughout the United States. As a result the inquiries made of the Agents of the Canadian Government have nearly coubled over those of the same period last year. Railroad companies are putting on increased carrying capacity to meet the demand made upon them for carrying passengers and freight. Everything points to a most prosperous year. There is room for hundreds of thousands additional settlers, as new land having been opened up for settlement this year.

It is quite interesting to look through the letters received from the Americans who have settled in Western Canada during the past few years, and considering the large number it is surprising how few there are who have not succeeded. An extract from a letter written by Mr. Geo. M. Griswold of Red Deer, Alta., formerly of Grever, Montana, written on the 2nd of January is as follows:

"I am located 1¼ miles from a beautiful lake 10 miles long, where there is church, school, 3 stores, creamery and two postoffices. The fine stock, both cattle (cows and steers) horses, hogs and sheep are rolling fat, grazing in pasture to-day, just a little snow, hardly enough for good sleighing, as we just had a Chinook which has melted the roads and laid bare the fields and pasture. There are fine wheat, oats, barley and flax raised here, also winter wheat and timothy hay for export to British Columbia. This is a mixed farming and dairy country. This is the right time to get a foothold in the Canadian West, as it was some years ago in the United States. We are free from wind gumbo and alkali here and have fine, clear soft well and spring water at a depth of from 5 to 25 feet, and lots of open everflowing springs."

Telegraphic advices from Medicine Hat say that seeding has commenced at Medicine Hat, Lethbridge and other points. At the former place the temperature moderated gradually until on the 19th the maximum was 45 and the minimum 26. Thermometer readings since then have been as follows: 20th, 47 and 28; 21st, 54 and 34; 22nd, 56 and 39; 23rd, 48 and 40; 24th, 46 and 26.

During the last few days in February considerable ploughing was done near Lethbridge. P. A. Pulley, a recent arrival from Montana, ploughed and harrowed fifteen acres, and E. Laliberty about the same amount. Rev. Coulter White has also been harrowing his farm. All report the ground frost free and in excellent condition. Breaking has also begun in town. At Hartney further east on the 25th February the sun was warm and bright, wheeled carriages were in use and the plowed fields look as if they are ready for the press drills. There is every appearance that spring has arrived, but farmers do not wish to be deceived by appearances and consequently have not commenced to use their bluestone and seed wheat.

A Word From Australia.

Walter H. Woodward, Bomadier Royal Australian Artillery, Hobart, Tasmania, writes:

"I suffered for several years with a distressing condition of the head and throat, caused by continual colds.

"My head and nostrils were stopped up most of the time and there was a discharge, and my sense of smell was affected badly.

"After two weeks use of Peruna I found this condition quite changed, and so I continued to use this remarkable medicine for over a month.

"I am very glad to say that at the end of that time I was cured and felt in fine health generally, and am pleased to give Peruna my honest endorsement."

From Hawaii.

Prince Jonah Kalanianaole, delegate in Congress from Hawaii, writes from Washington, D. C., as follows:

"I can cheerfully recommend your Peruna as a very effective remedy for coughs, colds and catarrhal trouble."

A Cuban Minister.

What it Cost to Discover America.

The discovery of America, according to documents found in the archives of Genoa, cost a little more than $7,000. The fleet of Columbus was of the value of about $2,000, while the salary of the Admiral amounted to $300 a year. The two captains who accompanied the expedition received a salary of $200, and the members of his crew were paid at the rate of $2.50 a month each.

SCIATIC TORTURE

PAIN SUFFERED BY MR. MARSTON AS GREAT AS MORTAL CAN STAND.

For Six Months He Could Not Turn in Bed—He Tells of a Remedy Which Has Given Perfect Relief.

The case of Mr. Marston shows that sciatica can be cured, and no one afflicted by it should allow himself to be disheartened. He was first stricken about a year ago, and for six months he suffered pain which he thinks the most intense that any man could possibly stand.

Asked about the details of his remarkable recovery, Mr. Marston gave the following account: "I was attacked by a numbness or dull feeling just back of my right hip. I didn't know what the matter was, but thought it was simply a stiffness that would wear away in a short time. It didn't, however, and soon the pain became so very bad that every step was torture for me. When I finally succeeded in getting home, it was just as much as I could do to reach my room and get to bed.

"The doctor was sent for, and when he had examined me he said I had sciatica. He prescribed for me, and advised me not to try to leave my bed. The advice was unnecessary for I couldn't get out of bed if I wanted to. It was impossible for me to turn from one side to the other. The moment I attempted to move any part of my body, the pain became so excruciating that I would have to lie perfectly motionless.

"I suffered this torture for six months without getting any relief. Then I discharged the doctor, and on the advice of a friend I bought a box of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and began to take them, three at a dose, three times a day. I was determined to give them a thorough trial.

"Two months after I began to use them I was able to leave my bed and walk about the house, and a month later I was entirely cured and able to go about my work as usual. I think Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the best medicine I ever used, and I heartily recommend them to anyone who suffers from sciatica."

Mr. Marston is a prosperous farmer and may be reached by mail addressed to Charles P. Marston, Hampton P. O., New Hampshire. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have cured other painful, nervous disorders, such as neuralgia, partial paralysis and locomotor ataxia. They are sold by all druggists.
