The box social at Mrs. S. J. Lumb's was well attended and a pleasant evening was spent in playing games and listening to graphophone music, kindly furnished by L. O. Smith. About $16 were added to the organ fund.

Evidently Frank and Sammy Halsey do not propose to walk while the horses are all busy on the farm. They have broken a yearling calf to harness and they drove to Big Beaver, a distance of one and one-half miles, with their novel turn-out one day last week.

It is reported that the following conversation took place between two ladies who reside near here when they met in L. Smith's store last Monday afternoon: Mrs. B.—"I suppose you find your daughter very much improved by her two years' stay at college?" Mrs. P.—"La, yes! Mary Elizabeth is a carnivorous reader now, and she frequently improvises music. But she ain't a bit stuck up and she's unanimous to ever body, and she never keeps a caller waiting for her to dress. She just runs in non de plume, and you know that makes one feel so comfortable."

AN INTERESTING STATEMENT.

Whitehead & Mitchell and Cobb & Cobb Say They Have at Last Discovered a Positive Cure for Indigestion.

"For years," said a member of one of the above drug firms, "we have been waiting for some one to discover a remedy that really will cure dyspepsia."

"We recently learned that a new remedy, Pepsalgin Tablets, had been placed on the market, and on investigation we found that at last there is a remedy that surely will cure."

"We had in a big supply because we know that as soon as the people began to know about this remarkable remedy there would be a big demand for it, and it is selling beyond our expectations."

It is so often a druggist sells a new remedy on a positive guarantee, but unless cured of nervousness, dizzy spells, sour stomach, coated tongue, palpitation, and other symptoms of dyspepsia, these druggists will hand back your money cheerfully and without argument.

No one should hesitate on trying a 25-cent box of Pepsalgin Tablets if they fail to relieve and cure the very worst case of indigestion and dyspepsia.

THE E. M. P. CLUB

The Regular Quarterly Meeting a Success. Great Interest Displayed—Interesting Papers

The Griswold House, Detroit, was a very busy place last Friday, April 14, but it became much busier when about forty members of the Eastern Michigan Press Club gathered there for dinner and we wish to say right here that the litch string of the Griswold house is always out for any member of this club, by special order of the genial proprietors, Messrs Postal & Morey, and a glad hand

"A General Jolly," and there were several members who said they were glad when he finished his speech, and he was, too.

"How to Handle Foreign Advertising" was taken up by G. L. Adams of the Fowlerville Review, who treated his subject in a very interesting manner and kept his hearers on the alert, so as not to miss a word. Mr. Adams spoke right off the bat, and his speech was followed by a general discussion that was pleasing and interesting to all present.

"Illustrations as Applied to Modern Newspapers" was Prof. A. H. Griffith's subject and here is where our profession lost a prize. With Prof. Griffith's ideas of illustration he would make a mark as a country editor and his paper would be illustrated to a finish, as this bright in painting some one object, such as a boy, house, trees or clouds. Fifteen hundred paintings are credited to Rubens and had he done all the work on them he would have had to live over 200 years more. We were sorry when Mr. Griffith made his bow to a pleased and happy crowd of listeners.

Mr. Bert Trumble did not show up, but his place was successfully filled by Tom Mingay of the Chelsea Herald on "The Benefits of the E. M. P. C.," and we must tell you right here that one of the good things that come to all the members of this club, (and we emphasize ALL), is the offer of Messrs. Postal & Morey to all the members, who may secure one of their special rate cards and get meals and lodging for half cost and pay the balance in advertising. No raise Marlette Leader, was full of useful hints by the worthy secretary. His scheme to catch all rural delivery patrons was a good one, and we are going to try it some sweet day. Others told interesting schemes as to their way of increasing their pile of coin, and all went as merry as a marriage bell.

At this juncture the Detroit Daily Tribune sent in an artist who, in a very quick and pleasing manner took a snap shot at the whole bunch of editors and their wives and printed the picture with a nice write-up of the event—the only paper to give "the country editor" so much notice and prominence.

After a good hearty supper at the Griswold the Lyceum theater, with "Shore Acres," as the attraction, caught the editors, through the kindness of E. L.

will be wiped off the slate and a membership card for 1905 issued to any all who will send in their dues. Is not this an inducement for you to remit to the treasurer, T. M. Sheriff of the Trenton Times, a dollar and get your clearance papers for a delightful trip next summer or fall to some Ohio town for a two days run? Try it and our word for it, you will never be sorry. The E. M. P. C. was never in so good a shape as now.

Several new members joined at our last meeting and the dollars flowed in so fast it made Bro. Stearns ask if our treasurer furnished a bowl.

After passing a resolution of expression of sympathy to our brother, F. S. Neal, of the Northville Record, whose wife died recently and whose presence was sadly missed for her pleasant, genial
