skirts little changed. It is a comfort to many that with all the changes going on in styles, skirts remain almost the same.

and placing the waist line half an inch below where she actually feels the line to exist. A garment cut an inch too long wasted looks infinitely better than one a quarter of an inch too short wasted, especially in this to be noticed in the plain tailor coat made with single fly fronts.

Ribbon Flowers. The newest table decorations are made of ribbon, which may cleverly be used as fashion for themselves.

Scheme in Hat Trimming. Marvellous shaded effects are secured by employing different tints of the same flowers in hats.

What Gray Haired Women Can Wear. While there are many types of gray haired women, those who are prematurely gray young women, and those whose white hair is quite legitimate and indicates an honorable old age.

With the Housewife. The shirt waist costume has to some extent superseded the tailor suit for general wear.

Wash Cutlets with Tomatoes. Sew two cutlets and season them with pepper and salt. Have ready some hot lard and butter in a pan; put the meat into it, and fry it on both sides until a nice brown; when done place on a hot platter.

Princess gowns are appearing in the thimble of fine muslins, and handkerchiefs in linen batiste. They are tucked to fit into the neck line and are elaborately trimmed with fine lace and slight designs of hand embroidery.

For Large Women. A style of bodice becoming to large women is that made with draped fronts, not the loose, hanging bolero fronts, but a trim, tight fitting affair, either braided, or decorated with lace at the left side.

line in gray or tan shades, with borders in some gay contrasting tone. When a broom becomes shorter on one side and the ends of the straws become as sharp as needles dip it into hot water, trim it evenly with the shears and you will have a broom nearly as good as new.

New Rifle Trick. A new rifle trick seems to have accomplished the apparently impossible task of getting side shots on the rifle in the air about the feet. The rifle is of embroidery, shaped and gathered into half circles, which join at the tips.

Blouse of Silk or Vole. It is but very little that we ask—the right kind of preparation for our own people, ruled by some, at any rate, of our own rulers, and to be permitted to eat and drink what we think good for, instead of having bread, poison poured down our throats, says the Century.

The Making of Men. Courage or lack of it; grit or the need of it; the purpose of men of it; the work of the fun of it.

Winegar Pie. Put together in a saucepan a heap tablespoonful of flour wet with a paste with a gill of cold water, a cupful of vinegar and two quarters of a cup of sugar.

Padded Laces Still Popular. If anything, the new laces are padded more than those which came in last year for the first. Roses, lilies and other flowers are stuffed with cotton batting, so that the design stands out from the lace almost like real flowers.

Misinterpreted. A member of a temperance society heard of a man in the southern part of the city whose wife, in popular parlance, "had driven him to drink."
