The Misses Grace L. Smith and Carrie E. Mitchell who are studying osteopathy at Kirksville, Mo., have successfully passed the Illinois state examination. This is quite a feather in their professional caps.

Aurie Smith had the contract of removing the old buildings on the site of the new Shaw & Johnston block. He did better than to take the job on shares, as he has all the remains without a divy with anyone.

Dr. D. M. Johnston has purchased the Lewis Simpson property on Maple avenue, and will at once proceed to build himself a new home, which with the present house, will make him a handsome place.

The proposition to break up the sixth judicial district (Oakland and Lapeer counties) has been abandoned. It is calculated that the Macomb and Monroe judges will assist Judge Smith whenever necessary.

Assessors throughout the state say that they find it impossible to get the names of more than half the births. There should be a system of reporting births in the same manner that the undertakers are required to report deaths.

Mr. Fred Parks and wife of Troy are in town this week enjoying the real old-time hospitality as dispensed by the Parks and Smith families. Fred is a little under the weather but will soon be as good as ever—can't help it with the treatment he's receiving.

The one dollar offered by the education committee of the Ladies' Literary c'ub, for the best essay from the school pupils, was won by Kenneth Kinnisten. Especial mention was made of the work of Anna Staley, Alma Herbison and P. V. McDonald.

Harry Jones, aged 14 years and 9 months, was sentenced by Justice Campbell on Monday last to the Industrial school at Lansing until he is 17. It appeared to the court that the public interest and the interest of Harry would be the best subserved.

A Birminghammer who was in Flint at the dedication of the new library building given by Mr. Carnegie, sends postal card with cut of the building, and the greeting, "Wish Birmingham had one one-third as fine." We will, some day. "Have faith in the people."

Owing to being driven out into the cold by the coming of the new business block, E. J. Both gentlemen are ready for business.

Visitors at the home of Mrs. G. H. Satterlee the past week, who called and had a visit with Grandma Rainey, who, by the way, is not very well at present, were: Mr. and Mrs. John Pound and Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Gleason, all of Richmond; John M. Rainey, Chicago; Mrs. Sarah Bassett, Pontiac and Mrs. Margaret Bigley of Detroit.

If you want to see the prettiest little layout for a "comfie" home for two elderly people, just call on Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Bortel of Ann street. Everything spick and span clean and neat, a beautiful lawn and a garden that is far ahead of anything that we have yet seen. Comrade Bortel is an adept at keeping up a home. He has his coal in for next winter and what more can one ask or expect?

We suppose there are some people in town who would rather not see the Johnston & Shaw block go up than to see those beautiful, grand half-century-old maples go down. We can remember what a task it was to get them started, especially the corner one, which was set and reset by the Lowes family until the present one made a live of it.

Mr. and Mrs. Dr. George P. Raynale returned home to Birmingham Saturday evening last and are housekeeping and attending to business just as if they had always been there in the old homestead, under the shade of the old apple tree. Dr. C. M. Raynale and wife remained in Cincinnati after the wedding and will come home as soon as they feel like it. The doctor has earned this vacation—the first one he has had in many years.

At the last meeting of the Literary club a suggestion was made that it would be kind for all to follow. When you are in the city, try not to take the six o'clock car for home. Many persons, both men and women, who have worked all day, come to their homes on that car, and are often obliged to stand. Many who take that car, can without inconvenience, come earlier or later, and make everyone more comfortable.

Melvin Dier, one of Birmingham's brightest sons, is anxious to "follow in the footsteps of his dear old dad" and will begin to learn the tonsorial profession in his father's shop, and from now on W. I. Dier will have a two-chair shop. Verily Birmingham is growing. We now have the Taylor Bros. with three chairs, W. I. Deer, two chairs and George H. Toms one chair. We can recall the time when one man did all the barbering for Birmingham and didn't work half the time, either.

The Sigma Tau girls held their last meeting at the home of Miss Emma Miller on Friday evening last, and four young ladies rode the Sorority goat. They were Edna Mason, Carrie Davenport, Lillian Stauch, and Mae Erwin. Our representative peeked through the window and saw one young lady doing a cake walk with a sheet of sticky fly paper on each foot. One of the girls took the sixth degree, but the reporter couldn't stay to see it. It must have been something fierce.

Miss Olean Doty gave a concert at the Conservatory of Music in Schwankovsky's hall, Detroit, on Wednesday last. We noticed by the program that Birmingham was represented by the Misses Cora Peabody, Helen Shaw and Emeline Mitchell and Master Ford Peabody. They had the first number, two pianos, eight hands, and were accompanied by four violins. They gave Gounod's Dodilinette and received the glad hand from a large and appreciative audience. There were eleven other numbers and the affair was a huge success.

The Wisconsin statute against the cannon cracker should be generally adopted in other states. The law is sufficiently drastic to make its provisions obeyed, and the sale, manufacture and importation of all are on the same level. The casuality list in Wisconsin last Fourth of July was 200 and there is reasonable expectation that the figures this year will be materially reduced. The small boy can have just as much fun with the old fashioned cracker and is not exposed to the danger that besets those who handle the cannon variety.

Two weddings in as many days in one home, the brides being mother and daughter, will be celebrated at the residence of Mrs. Mary Rule Parks, No. 702 Sixth street, Detroit. Mrs. Parks and Delos Russell, a prosperous farmer of Eagleville, Mo., will be married very quietly on Monday evening, June 19, and the following evening her daughter and Albert Edward Wilkinson of Windsor will be married. Mrs. Parks lived here many years ago and her many friends will join with The Eccentric in wishing the happy couples a long and prosperous wedded life.

The Misses Sarah and Matie Sly will join a party of friends from the east on June 19 for an extended western trip. Chicago, St. Paul and Minneapolis are the first cities to be visited; then the party visits Yellowstone park, where their itinerary includes a week's stay. From this point they go to Portland, Tacoma and Seattle, and from the latter city they sail for Alaska where the principal points will be visited. On their return they will "do" California and the Catalina Islands thirty miles at sea. About the middle of August the party turn homeward, visiting St. Lake and the principal cities of Colorado.

The work of demolishing the four little wooden shops between F. Hagerman's and Roy Blakeslee's is about finished and Drs. Shaw and Johnston will at once proceed to erect a handsome two-story modern brick block of stores. There will be four large brick stores with offices galore overhead, and a public hall, also. Ed. O'Neal is building one of these stores himself, and the front of Roy's store will be brought out to the street front. Messrs Malcomson & Higglebotham, of Detroit, are the architects, and they have full and complete instructions to go ahead and plan to their greatest ability a building suitable for the place—one which will be an everlasting credit to the town and to the gentlemen who are building it.

The new warehouse of Wm. Parks, erected near the railroad, is completed and is a fine edifice—a monument to its builder. It is 30x80 with a cellar under all of it, besides a good big addition on the south end. The foundation walls are of cement, the building brick are from the Birmingham Brick and Tile yards and were laid by John Felder. The roof is of galvanized iron and was put on by J. R. Blakeslee, and the result is something wonderful. Two floors and a cellar 80x80 gives ample room for the big business that is coming to Parks & Smith. They deserve success. Agricultural implements of all kinds are safely housed, and what next is the questioning glance of everybody.

The Farmington Herald says a town that never has anything to do in a public way is on the way to the cemetery. Any citizen who will do nothing for his town furnishes the coffin. The man who is so selfish as to have no time from business to give to village affairs is making the shroud. The man who will not advertise is driving the hearse. The man who is always pulling back from any public enterprise, throws boquets on the grave. The man who is so stingy and selfish as to be howling hard times, preaches the funeral sermon and sings the doxology, and thus the town lies buried, free from all sorrow and care.

Man is a funny little cuss and has not long to stay; he flies around and makes a fuss, and then hikes away. Some men imagine they are great, and some try to tear up jack, but each one meets the same old fate and trots the same old track. Great Cassar's dead and Alexander's gone the way the rest of us must go. The sages, heroes, poets, all the men of worth into an open grave must fall and crumble back to earth. Le.'s not join the mad affray, struggle like the deuce, and agonize our life away for really what's the use? Let's live and love and sing awhile, work some now and then, give to everyone a smile that cheers the hearts of men. And whether we are crowned with flowers or chilled with winter snows, with happiness let's fill the hours, ere we turn up our toes.

The Michigan Fresh Air society, which for the past ten years has been sending out poor children into country homes for a two or three weeks' vacation, is arranging to begin operations for this season. During the existence of the society, upwards of 2,000 have been sent to such homes among respectable farmerms as were offered them. The society provides the children, and furnishes transportation to and from the homes, the only expense to the farmers or those taking children, being the keeping or boarding of them, which many of them gladly offer to do. The children are usually under 12 years of age, and of a class that otherwise could have no vacation. If you would like to entertain a few of the little tots, address the Michigan Fresh Air Society, Dr. James A. Post, Sec'y 114 Bates street, Detroit, Mich.

The Inevitable.

Whatever you do and whatever you say,
Somebody's going to kick.
If you even attempt to give money away,
They will vow it's some kind of a trick.
You may struggle and toil to evolve a story to read
For meeting the needs or the pleasures of man,
But when, with some pride, your endeavors you send
Somebody's going to kick.

If refuge you take in the far-distant stars,
Somebody's going to kick.
If you hint that perhaps there are people in Mars,
There's ridicule following quick.
The man who is mentioned when his story is read
Is the man who went straight and single-eyed ahead,
For you may as well know that till after you're dead,
Somebody's going to kick.

THE DIP OF DEATH.

A Thrilling Sensation in the Great Barnum & Bailey Show.

It has been definitely announced that the Barnum & Bailey Greatest Show on Earth will exhibit in Detroit on June 19. The tremendous success of the circus in New York where the season was opened early in March has been duly heralded and the thousauds of people who visited the show at Madison Square Garden have been loud in their praise of the mammoth aggregation and the same show replete with its many features of sensational greatness, combined with its peerless presentation of the world's most marvelous exhibitions, will be exhibited in its entirety wherever it is advertised to appear this season. The three rings, two stages, and immense hippodrome will serve to introduce a conclave of startling and stupendous acts, and the zoological display of the rarest wild beasts will add to the magnitude of the attraction. The Durbar at Delhi, an exact presentation of the historical jubilee at India, costumed in the most gorgeous styles, the congress of curiosities and the startling feat "The Dip of Death"—se act where a daring woman leaps the gap in an automobile, makes the show, beyond doubt, the unapproachable success of the season. The Brothers Ancillotti, two young Frenchmen, attired in faultless evening dress, perform the thrilling feat of simultaneously looping and leaping the quadruple chasms—an act conceded by all to be the highest acme of nerve and fearlessness. The Lecusson Troupe in coach acrobatic work, and the Imperial Viennese act of ten aerial trapeze performers are with this remarkable tented aggregation this season.

A very remarkable exhibition of the most meritorious nature, without an equal in the werld for thrilling and daring, will be given free on the circus grounds before the big show opens. This is an entirely new idea with the "Greatest Show on Earth."

I'm Growing Old Fast

And you know why, too. It's those gray hairs! Don't you know that Ayer's Hair Vigor restores color to gray hair? Well, it does. And it never fails, either. It stops falling hair also, and keeps the scalp clean and healthy. Do not grow old too fast!

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for many years and I should indeed be sorry to be obliged to do without it. It keeps my hair from turning gray, and also keeps my scalp clean and healthy."—E. S. PERFIELD, Canton City, Oregon.
