

IN STRICT CONFIDENCE.

Women Obtain Mrs. Pinkham's Advice and Help.

The New England Tribune's Health-News Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Cured Mrs. Fred Seydel.

It is a great satisfaction to a woman to feel that she can write to another woman, and tell her the most private and confidential details about her illness, and know that the woman to whom she writes is a woman only, a woman full of sympathy for her sick sisters, and above all, a woman who has had more experience in treating female ills than any living person.

Over one hundred thousand cases of female diseases come before Mrs. Pinkham every year, some personally, others by mail, and this has been going on for twenty years, day after day. Surely women are wise in seeking advice from a woman of such experience, especially when it is absolutely free.

Mrs. Pinkham never violates the confidence of women, and every testimonial letter published is done so with the written consent or request of the writer, in order that other sick women may be benefited as they have been.

Mrs. Fred Seydel, of 412 North 5th Street, West Philadelphia, Pa., writes: Dear Mrs. Pinkham—

Over a year ago I wrote you a letter asking advice, as I had female ills and could not carry a child to maturity. I received your kind letter of instructions and followed your advice. I am not only a well woman now, but I have a beautiful baby girl, and I am every suffering woman in the land would write for advice, as you have done so much for me.

Just as surely as Mrs. Seydel was cured, will Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cure every woman suffering from any form of female ills.

No other medicine in all the world has such a record of cures of female troubles as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Therefore no prudent woman will accept any substitute which a druggist may offer.

If you are sick, write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass. for special advice. It is free and always helpful.

INDIAN TREATMENT OF SICK.

Superstitious Ceremony That is Often a Last Resort. In answer to inquiries as to the meaning of the word it was explained that a sachacha is a feast said to be of the incantation and superstition ceremony conducted over the sick by the lower class of ignorant Indians.

When a man is thought to be sick and a remedy is not found, a doctor is put into a hut, and for three days no one except the doctor sees him. The doctor goes into the woods and gathers herbs, from which he prepares a potion for the sick man and then keeps a lonely vigil with him, at the end of the third day, if the patient is not improved, the cure is given to prepare a sachacha. Corn and beef, either beef, pork or game, are put in a large kettle and stewed until the corn is soft.

All the relatives of the sick man are entitled to attend, and they gather around the kettle for the feast. The sick man is brought out and served first. He is fed as much as his stomach can hold, and the others then turn in and devour the remainder of the stew. When this is concluded a bonfire is built and the crowd of circles around and dances to the tune of a wild chant. After this, if the patient is not better, nothing more is done for him, and he dies or gets well by act of Providence—Oklahoma Times Journal.

Queen's State Kirtle. A portion of Queen Elizabeth's state kirtle, valued by its owner at $200, had a curious history. The kirtle came into the possession of her family over a century ago, and the legend of its real value, had cut it up to give to her friends, until she only had a yard of two of the embroidery left. Queen Victoria on one occasion nearly became the purchaser of this interesting relic.

Cause of Headaches. As is naturally to be expected, the commonest cause of headaches is some nervous disturbance or weakness irritated by some experience which in prime condition of health would produce no perceptible effect. The common causes are therefore of two classes, namely, those which previously exist within the body and those which exist outside of it and excite the finer or latent evils into action.

Profits of the Packers.

There has been a great deal of disappointment because the "Gardner report" shows that the profits of the packing industry only amount to about two per cent of the volume of business transferred. There is no doubt, however, that the report is correct.

The census reports compiled by the government in 1900, before the agitation regarding the "beef trust" began, throw considerable light on this question. It appears from the census that the packing industry is conducted on a smaller margin of gross profit than any other industry in America. The gross margin of profit of 871 flour and 871 meat in Illinois, in the census year, was nearly seven per cent on the volume of business. The gross margin of fifty-one wagon loads of tanning and meat packing establishments in Illinois was only about one-third as large, or a little more than two per cent on the volume of business.

The millers have not been accused of being in a "trust" and, combinations would seem impossible in a business where there are several thousand firms in the United States competing actively for the four hundred million of the gross profits of the millers are larger than the gross profits of the packers. It may turn out that the agitation regarding the packing industry will show the same result as the devil found in starting the pig: "All squeal and no wool."—Chicago Homestead.

Conviction Follows Trial

When buying loose coffee or anything your grocer happens to have in his bin, how do you know what you are getting? Some queer stories about coffee that is sold in bulk could be told, if the people who handle it (grocers), cared to speak out.

Could any amount of mere talk have persuaded millions of housekeepers to use the leader of all package coffees for over a quarter of a century, if they had not found it superior to all other brands in Purity, Strength, Flavor and Uniformity?

This popular success of LION COFFEE can be due only to inherent strength. It is no stronger proof of merit than cost and increasing popularity.

In the verdict of MILLIONS OF HOUSEKEEPERS does not convince you of the merits of LION COFFEE, it costs you but a trifle to buy a package. It is the easiest way to convince yourself, and to make you a PERMANENT PURCHASER. LION COFFEE is sold only in 1 lb. sealed packages, and makes you so sure of its quality when it is put out for sale.

Looked up on your package. Bear these Lion-words for "Lionable purchase."

Constipated All His Life

Wilbert Thompson never knew a well day—he had been constipated all his life—many doctors treated him, but all failed to even help him—his health failed rapidly and on January 21, 1903, Mrs. Thompson asked us to suggest a treatment for her husband. We thought the case too serious and recommended that a specialist be consulted—but he also failed to help the patient—NOW HE'S WELL.

Mull's Grape Tonic Cured Him

Mrs. Thompson first wrote us as follows: "My husband, aged 23, suffers from sharp pains in his stomach and is constantly constipated. He has been treated by several doctors, but they have given him up. I have tried all sorts of medicine, but nothing has helped him. I have heard of Mull's Grape Tonic, and I have bought a bottle. I have used it for a week, and I feel much better. I have had no more sharp pains in my stomach, and I am constipated no more. I have gained considerably in weight. I have had no more sharp pains in my stomach, and I am constipated no more. I have gained considerably in weight."

"You will remember that I wrote to you last January in regard to my husband's health. It is four months since he quit taking Mull's Grape Tonic for constipation, which he suffered from since birth. He took just 24 bottles of it, and is perfectly cured. He is much stronger, and he has gained considerably in weight. I cannot thank you enough for Mull's Grape Tonic. It is worth its weight in gold. Just $12 cured him, and he has spent hundreds of dollars with doctors who did him no good. I did all you claimed it would."

Very respectfully yours, MRS. W. H. THOMPSON, 801 Main St., Peoria, Ill. has taken no other medicine taking Mull's Grape Tonic in June, 1903. He has been completely cured and a permanent cure.
