Are not trying what we ought to, but we have progressed a little.

It is as much effort for a person to step to the edge of the walk and spit into the street as it is for some of our business men to go forth with ball, mow and broom and force an entrance into their own stores.

All the ladies of Birmingham interested in the study of philately are cordially invited to attend a free lecture to be given by Mrs. Emma A. Fox, of Detroit...

The New Year's reception, given Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Geo. Mitchell, by the Women's Literary Club, was a decided success.

Over one hundred persons partook of the club's hospitable and well-voiced a pleasant dinner.

The two weeks old baby of Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Wolcott died on Friday last, after a painful illness.
