Weak, Nervous and Wretched From Wasting Kidney Troubles. Mrs. Henry A. Bremer, Main and Chest Sts., South Bend, Ind., says: "Using Doan's Kidney Pills I was so weak I could hardly drag myself across the room. I was wretched, thin, nervous, and had headache, bearing-down pain, dizziness and weak eyes. Dropsy settled on me and threatened to choke me. I had little hope, but to my untold surprise Doan's Kidney Pills brought me relief and saved my life. I shall never forget it."

Facial Paralysis. Nervous Distortion of Face Cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

I had been feeling badly for a long time, said Mr. Beman, "and in the early part of September, 1904, I was compelled to quit work on account of my ill health. My trouble was at first extreme nervousness, then it became a numbness and I consulted an oculist who said I was suffering from paralysis of the face."

COSTUME THAT CAUSED STRIFE.

There are still many who will remember the late Theodore D. Wald as one of the old-time, active abolitionists. He was afflicted with color-blindness, and often related the following incident as one of the unpleasant happenings connected therewith.

Among other preparations for an extensive lecture he had ordered two pairs of trousers of his tailor, one pair blue and the other green. It was a rush order, and the garments were finished up after dark and sent to his residence the same night.

His first lecture was delivered at an afternoon meeting, for which he had secured a pair of the new trousers. When he made his appearance on the platform an amused smile appeared on nearly every face in the audience and a murmur of suppressed laughter was plainly audible.

He looked, so far as he could, to see if there was anything wrong with his personal appearance, and, being satisfied that all was well, proceeded calmly with his address. But he was embarrassed before long, when his hostess kindly telling him that one leg of his trousers was blue and the other green.
