If a woman finds that her energies are being used up, that she gets easily tired, dark shadows appear under her eyes, she has headaches, heartaches, bearing-down pains, nervousness, irritability, or the blues, she should start at once to build up her system by a tonic with specific powers, such as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Following the public by request a letter from a young wife:

"I never since my child was born have suffered as I do now. I have had a severe cold, my head aches, my eyes are sore, and I feel as if I could not get on my feet. I have been reading of your medicine, and I feel as if I should try it. I have written to my doctor, but he has not been able to help me. AND WASHINGTON

Comparison Between Two Men of Such Greatness Is Impossible to Make

At a banquet in Brooklyn, Rabbi Tennenbaum delivered the following subject on President Lincoln: "Taking Abraham Lincoln as my subject tonight, I beg your permission to say that the theme is too vast for a limited discourse. Abraham Lincoln comprises constellations, the power of his mind; the charms of his character; the effects of his achievements; are groups of shining lights, his whole life is a path of the heroic and sublime. Alas! not even the most awful is excluded therefrom. To Abraham Lincoln, as the wonderful composite of overwhelming qualities due honor is to be done by men with acuteness of sound judgment, with mastery of classic diction, with competence to portray the genuineness of true greatness. At best I can only offer in my humble way a few observations on the preservation of the Union as the hero in the preservation of the Union."

"No fact in American history is plainer, clearer and more exhilarating, nor fact is more exuberant with comprehensive meaning and happy results, than the fact that Abraham Lincoln saved the Union. It means that he rescued the priceless gem of American liberty, that he gave a new impulse to the development and constructive progress of the American genius which is the delight at home and the wonder among the nations."

WESTERN CANADA'S MARVELOUS CROP RETURNS

The increase in the crop returns of the Canadian West, in the past seven years has approached the marvelous. There is no reason to believe that a corresponding increase will not result for many years to come. The increase has been particularly noticeable in the wheat crop.

The yield has been uniformly good every year except 1900, when there appears to have been a slump all along the West. This, however, was due to a combination of factors, including a late start in the spring and a severe drought in the summer.
