The Better Way

The tissues of the throat are inflamed and irritated; you cough, and there is more irritation—more coughing. You take a cough mixture and it eases the irritation—for a while. You take and it cures the cold. That's what is necessary. It soothes the throat because it reduces the irritation; cures the cold because it drives out the inflammation; builds up the weakened tissues because it nourishes them back to their natural strength. That's how Scott's Emulsion deals with a sore throat, a cough, a cold, or bronchitis.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

FROM THE MAIL BAG.

EDITOR ECCENTRIC:

"From the Mailbag" gives the writer an opportunity to say a few words in praise, and a few more in criticism, of a local institution—the Birmingham Improvement Society. Through the efforts of its active members much has been done to make the village attractive alike to residents and visitors. Receptacles have been provided at convenient places for the deposit of rubbish, a desire created to tidy up yards and lawns, and last, but not least, the society has secured the passage of an ordinance by the Village Board, making it a punishable offense for the tobacco hog to expectorate on the sidewalks, etc.

On the other hand, it is just as unlawful to tear down a business man's sign. The rag sign may not be a thing of beauty, and the said business man may have shown execrable judgment in displaying his cotton bread sign, but the fact remains that the sign was his property on his premises, and under the laws of the State of Michigan the sign owner could cause the conviction and punishment of the individual who so officiously removed it. Another point of criticism is the effort to place a seat for D. U. R. patrons at Woodward Avenue and Brown Street. Occupants of adjacent property have done much to make their premises attractive, and the placing of a seat there would make it the stamping ground of idlers and cause the destruction of the grass and more or less litter. Besides more people wait at the Maple Avenue corner in one day than at Brown Street in a week, yet no one thinks of providing accommodations there.

Let the good work go on, but keep within reason. Yours truly,

A READER.

AT THE THEATRES.

LYCEUM.

"Rufus Rastus," one of the largest and most entrancing musical extravaganzas of the season, will be the offering at the Lyceum next week, having been selected as the special State-Fair week offering. The piece will doubtless be remembered through its appearance here last season; also on account of funny Ernest Hogan, one of the cleverest and funniest colored comedians on the stage. Mr. Hogan is in a field by himself, and as the piece was constructed for him it is assured that every opportunity has been given this versatile and talented artist. A big aggregation of singing, dancing and comedy talent has been provided as a background to Mr. Hogan, and will aid in the rendition of many of the popular songs of the day as well as in several spectacular ensembles. The entire company is colored and the singing volume is unusually strong.

Matinees will be given on Wednesday and Saturday

WHITNEY.

It is claimed that all the human emotions are vividly portrayed in Langdon McCormick's new melodrama, "The House of Mystery," which will be the attraction at the Whitney for one week, commencing next Sunday afternoon. There is not a dull moment during the entire performance. The scenic and electrical effects are magnificent; the play is ably constructed and abounds with exciting and interesting climaxes, while the blending of the elements of pathos and humor are admirably done by the author, who knows how, and uses that knowledge to sway the hearts of the theatre-going public.

The piece is under the direction of the Mittenthal Brothers, who have spared no expense or work in giving it a thorough and extensive scenic equipment, as well as providing a strong and capable cast.

Matinees will be given daily except Wednesday.
