"The Most Attiactive Thing in Flour"

Is its perfect purity. And we can guarantee our S. & B. Flour to be that always. It is milled from the choicest selected hard wheat, and there is nothing else in it. Consequently it has excellent baking qualities and yields bread that makes the mouth water, while it pleases with its fragrance. And the bread made from this Flour is highly nutritious, consequently it goes farther than ordinary Flours, which cost you as much.

A Problem in Birds.

Miss Virginia Pope, the bird specialist, tells some amusing stories of the questions she is asked in connection with her work and the unusual ailments with which bird owners credit their tiny pets.

One day not long ago she received a visit from a pretty German burgher, whose difficulty was as follows:

"Miss Pope, I haf gread drouble to get me a pird. I wish a poy pird, and allertimes at the pird store dey sells me pirds vich is girls. I say ven I goes in, 'I vish a poy pird,' and am told by dem it is a poy vich I pys. But ven I prings her home and half her two, tree days, always he pegins to lay aiks. Miss Bope, I haf here a poy pird. Is he a girl?"

Disease and the House Cat.

The scientists make out a good case against the house cat, who, with all her charming and lovable qualities, is shown to be an agent of disease and a wholesale destroyer of bird life. Dr. Caroline A. Osborne, who has been conducting experiments at Clark university, has found that cats have diphtheria, whooping cough, tuberculosis, eczema and ringworm. Even when cats do not actually contract these maladies, they may carry the contagion about with them. As nimrods they are responsible for the death of about 50 birds a year, according to E. H. Forbush, state ornithologist for Massachusetts, not including the suffering they inflict by their mangling of birds, squirrels and rabbits.

Protection from Bee Stings.

A beekeeper in New Hampshire was showing a city man his apiary. The hives were arranged in line on the side of a mountain, and the air was sweet with the smell of clover, pine trees, carnations. A bee lit on the keeper's hand angrily, and the man held his breath.

"Bees can't sting you if you hold your breath," he said afterward. "To hold the breath closes the pores of the skin, or something like that. At any rate, if a bee goes for you, hold your breath, and I'll guarantee you won't be stung, although the bee jab its sting at you till the thing breaks."

Foresight.

"Yes," he said, "it's curious how your friends lay your life out for you. There was an uncle of mine who thought I should be a parson. It was my poor mother's belief that I should end up on the turf. One aunt always declared I should be a murderer, and my own mind, she was as nearly right as anyone."

"Oh!" exclaimed the other.

"Well," he said, I went into literature."

Marks His Autographs.

Senator Knox, of Pennsylvania, has been besieged so much for his signature that he has adopted a new plan to prevent possible fraud. The senator's signature is valuable at a good many banks. Being good-natured, the senator dislikes to refuse any person who asks for his autograph. He has usually written it on a blank card. Hereafter he will use a card on which is engraved the word "autograph."

That Settles It.

"Gee! is that the bonnet I put up my good mazuma for?"

"Yes, dear; don't you like it?"

"Like it! It looks like a mangled cake basket."

"I know it does."

"Then why in the world did you get it?"

"It's the style."

A Chicago professor says that society in this country will not bear close scrutiny. Neither will the cat ego professors.

THREATENED WITH PARALYSIS.

BEFORE TREATMENT

Peter E. Summers, of Kalamazoo, Mich., relates his experience:

"I was troubled with Nervous Debility for many years. I lay it to indiscretion and excesses in early youth. I became very despondent and didn't care whether I worked or not. I imagined everybody who looked at me guessed my secret. Imaginative dreams at night weakened me—my back ached, had pains in the back of my head, hands and feet were cold, tired in the morning, poor appetite, fingers were shaky, eyes blurred, hair loose, memory poor, etc. Numbness in the fifth toe set in and the doctor told me he feared paralysis. I took all kinds of medicines and tried many fraternal physicians, wore an electric belt for three months, went to Mt. Clemens for baths, but received little benefit. While reading an old Detroit paper I chanced upon an advertisement of the New Method Treatment and it saved my life. The improvement was like magic—I could feel the new life coursing through me from the first. I was treated locally and privately and I have sent them many patients and will continue to do so."
