STRICTURE AND KIDNEY DISEASE CURED.

It had become for eleven years. It finally brought on Bright's Disease of the Kidneys. I had an uncomfortable shooting pain in the groin and legs, although something was in the ureters. My back was weak and I could scarcely stoop over. Urine was full of sediment and cloudy frequently. Family doctors, several specialist, patent medicines, electric belts, all failed. I was discharged. I had great hundreds of dollars wasted. Finally I consulted Mrs. Kennedy & Kergan as the last resort. I had heard a great deal about them and one told me that they had been established over 25 years that they understood their business. I consulted with the results. In one week I felt better, and in a few weeks was entirely cured. Have gained sixteen pounds in weight.

DELVE IN THE PAST
NEW AND INTERESTING LIGHT ON EGYPTIAN HISTORY.

British Explorers Find Habitations of the Ancient Shepherd Kings of the Israelites, Centuries Before Christ.

At University College this year the annual exhibition of the year's work that has been done in Egypt by the British School of Archaeology and the Egyptian Research Account has very wisely been so subdivided as to present distinct foci of interest, so that the intelligent visitor in surveying the tokens which Prof. Petrie and Mr. Duncan and Mr. Gilbert Smith have brought home, is conscious of the meaning and the implications of the discoveries, says the London Graphic. The exhibits are elucidated by plans and models; and the rather formal and concentrated descriptions offered by the published reports are supplemented each day by little lectures, which are delivered in the morning and afternoon by some one or other of the archaeologists. Last year the chief work of the British school was along the eastern side of the delta between Cairo and Imaitha and it has brought to light, after many centuries, the habitations of the ancient shepherd kings of the Israelites, the Hyksos and one of the cities that they built. At Tell-el-Yehudiyeh the excavations laid bare a great camp which is certainly older than the eighteenth dynasty and contains within its confines many graves and tombs which are of the period of these shepherd kings of Israel who ruled 2,300 years before the coming of Christ. The defenses of the camp, not unlike a great "tombah," such as now exists in the Sahara as a refuge for traveling caravans, were chiefly earthworks; and it is evident that its dwellers relied on their archers and slingers to keep off the enemy on the long "plains" of the approaches to the walls. But the camp reveals that the relations between Israel and Egypt were not always such as have been supposed; that time brought its revenges, and that a great wall was built around the camp by the skilled masons of Egypt—a wall of finest limestone, in blocks from the hills 25 miles away. Truly, when one contemplates this link of continuity of labor between the pyramids and the Assuan dam, one begins to sympathize with the Egyptians as a race who have never been allowed to cease from their building. A very interesting model of this primeval camp is among the exhibits. Not less fascinating is a piece of temple sculpture representing Ramesses II. slaying a Syrian before the god Amun. It formed one side of the temple at the Israelite city of Raames at Tell-el-Belashi. By the ancient site of Avaris was found the great mound and temple which Onias, the high priest, built. He had fled from the persecutions of Antiochus Epiphanes, and came to Egypt about 190 B. C. to found a new Jerusalem and raise a temple to Jehovah where the Jew might worship in peace. One of the most singular discoveries in connection with this temple was a piece of the builders' account showing bricks that have been delivered by a Jew named Abram, together with other details which corroborate those that are set down in the history of Josephus.

TRUTH WAS OUT OF PLACE.
Insane Man Sure It Was Not Wanted in Paris Law Courts.

The Paris law courts witnessed a strange spectacle yesterday evening. One of the officials, after the day's business was over, was astounded to see approaching him in a corridor a man who was quite naked, and who carried his clothing under his arm. "I am Truth," explained the apparition, "as you see by my costume. I understand that truth is sought in the Dreyfus case. Will you take me to the Court of Cassation." The official was about to lead him to the chief of police office, when the man exclaimed, "You cannot lead me to the name of the police office is written over the door. Ah! Truth is not wanted here," he cried, and was in the act of flinging himself through a window, when the official caught him by the left leg, as somebody once caught Old Harry Longlegs, who would not say his prayers. Then the official gave himself up to the spirit of his visitant's madness, offered to show him the court, but took him instead down a staircase to the stores department, where he was cared for till the police arrived.—London Globe.

HOW THE SWIMMER FLOATS.
Inhaler Through the Mouth, Exhaler Through the Nose.
To float go out into the water as far as your waist, says August Comte. Lie in America, throw yourself on our back facing the shore. Hold your chin up as high as possible. This will submerge your ears, but don't let this strange sensation worry you. If the water closes over your head simply close your mouth and remain still and straight; you will go under for a second only.

Now throw your arms out wide behind your back and throw out your chest. Hold your chin high. Inhale through the mouth. Exhale through the nose. You are now in the floating attitude. Never lift your head. Keep straight and still, chest up, toes showing, chin high and ears submerged. Try to float as long as possible, because this exercise forms the basis, not only for swimming on the back, but for floating, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100.
