LIEUTENANT BOWMAN.

IN FORTY-EIGHT HOURS PE-RU-NA CURED HIM.

Cold Affected Head and Throat—Attack was Severe.

Chas. W. Bowman, 1st Lieut. and Adjt. 4th M. S. M. Cav. Vols., writes from Lanham, Md., as follows:

"Though somewhat averse to patent medicines, and still more averse to becoming a professional affidavit man, it seems only a plain duty in the present instance to add my experience to the columns already written concerning the curative powers of Peruna.

"I have been particularly benefited by its use for colds in the head and throat. I have been able to fully cure myself of a most severe attack in forty-eight hours by its use according to directions. I use it as a preventive whenever threatened with an attack.

"Members of my family also use it for like ailments. We are recommending it to our friends."

Autocratic Revivalists.

The earl and countess of Tankerville have been holding crowded religious meetings in Shropshire, England. Both are much interested in this kind of work. The countess was Miss Lenora Van Marter, an American girl, and the earl spent much of his youth in this country. He is an energetic member of the house of lords and, like his wife, a great lover of art.

Always to Be Depended Upon.

When a person gets up in the morning with a dull headache and a tired, stretchy feeling, it's an almost certain indication that the liver, or bowels, or both, are decidedly out of order.

At such times Nature, the wisest and best of doctors, takes this means to give warning that she needs the help and gentle assistance which can best be obtained from that old family remedy, Brandreth's Pills, which has been in use for over a century.

They are the same fine laxative tonic pill your grandparents used when doctors were few and far between, and when people had to have a remedy that could absolutely be depended upon.

Brandreth's Pills can be depended upon, and are sold in every drug and medicine store, plain or sugar-coated.

American Idealism.

Since my first arrival in America I have held that the real spirit is idealistic and that the average individual American is controlled by idealistic impulses. Those who may contradict me can not have sounded the depths of the philosophy of Ralph Waldo Emerson, or studied the ideals and read the speeches of Abraham Lincoln, and considered their far-reaching effect on the American people. In Lincoln's great character nothing can be more striking than the way in which he combined reality and the loftiest ideal, with a thoroughly practical capacity to achieve that ideal by practical methods. This faculty seemed to give him a far-sighted, almost superhuman vision, which enabled him to pierce the clouds obscuring the sight of the keenest statesmen and thinkers of his age—Baron Speck von Sternburg, in Forum.

THE FIRST TWINGE

Of Rheumatism Calls for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills if You Would Be Easily Cured.

Mr. Frank Little, a well known citizen of Portland, Ionia Co., Mich., was cured of a severe case of rheumatism by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. In speaking about it recently he said: "My body was run down and in no condition to withstand disease and about five years ago I began to feel rheumatic pains in my arms and across my back. My arms and legs grew numb and the rheumatism seemed to settle in every joint so that I could hardly move, while my arms were useless at times. I was unable to sleep or rest well and my heart pained me so terribly I could hardly stand it. My stomach became sour and bloated after eating and this grew so bad that I had inflammation of the stomach. I was extremely nervous and could not bear the least noise or excitement. One whole side of my body became paralyzed.

"As I said before, I had been suffering about five years and seemed to be able to get no relief from my doctors, when a friend here in Portland told me how Dr. Williams' Pink Pills had cured him of neuralgia in the face, even after the pain had drawn it to one side. I decided to try the pills and began to see some improvement soon after using them. This encouraged me to keep on until I was entirely cured. I have never had a return of the rheumatism or of the paralysis.

The pills are for sale by all druggists or sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

HARDLY A SUCCESS

MR. BIRDSALL'S EXPERIENCE WITH "WHIRLED EGGS."

Seemingly He Had Not Sufficient Expertness, and in His Wrath He Exclaimed Almost as David in His Haste.

All was peace in the Birdsall flat. The last of the five children had been put to bed, the last request for a drink of water had been silenced, and Mrs. Birdsall had come into the sitting room to sink down into a chair with a little tired sigh to take up the darning of the children's stockings. And now naught was heard save the crackle of Mr. Birdsall's paper as he adjusted his feet into a more comfortable position on the seat of another chair. Suddenly he took his feet down, shoved his spectacles up further on his nose, and cleared his throat.

"Ann, did you ever eat any whirled eggs?" he queried.

"Whirled eggs?" repeated Mrs. Birdsall. "No, I never did."

"Listen here then," said Mr. Birdsall. He cleared his throat again and began to read:

"There is a Turkish restaurant in New York where one may eat pilaffs, sherbets and saffron-colored goat stew, but the oddest dish the menu boasts is 'whirled eggs.' The impressive dish is prepared before the guest. When it is ordered a cook enters the dining room with a kind of sling in his hand—a little pot attached to the end of a leather cord. The man opens the eggs, seasons them, and shuts them up in the little pot. Then he whirls the pot at the end of its cord around his head at inconceivable speed. Round and round it spins. Its outlines become vague. It seems to smoke a little.

"Suddenly the man opens it and sets the eggs before the guest. They are beautifully scrambled and quite hot. The heat of their motion through the air is what has cooked them.

"'Thus,' exclaims the Turkish host, 'the eastern shepherds cook their eggs, whirling them in a sling like that wherewith David overcame the giant of Gath.'"

The next night Mr. Birdsall appeared at his home with a bundle under his arm.

"Henry, what are you fixing to do?" exclaimed Mrs. Birdsall.

"Do?" repeated Mr. Birdsall, "I'm going to whirl some eggs, that's what I'm going to do. No more of your fried eggs, and your poached eggs, and your boiled eggs for me. I'm going to have them whirled."

Mrs. Birdsall knew better than to interpose any objections, and went quietly on with her preparations for dinner while Mr. Birdsall was unwrapping his package.

In a few minutes he entered the dining room swinging in his hand a pair of thongs, from which was suspended a small closed pot which bore some resemblance both to a censer and a sling.

"Gimme some eggs now," he ordered, as he broke into a cheerful whistle. Mrs. Birdsall brought three eggs and Mr. Birdsall looked almost gay as he broke them into the small pot.

"I wasn't any slouch with a sling in my boyhood days," he observed cheerfully as he gathered up the thongs in his hand, "and I have an idea that I can show a thing or two about whirling to Turks or any other dagoes. Here—move this table out of my way and gimme plenty of room. Keep the children back there, and don't come inside the door yourself while I am whirling. It may take me a moment or two to get the right swing again."

Mr. Birdsall fitted the cover on the top of the pot, grasped the thongs, and slowly began to whirl the apparatus. Gradually he lifted his hand and put more power into his wrist till he had attained considerable speed. Round and round sped the pot, the thongs giving out a low, humming sound, which gradually became higher and higher as the speed increased. Mr. Birdsall stuck manfully at his task till the revolving pot became a circular blur above his head and the drops of perspiration trickled down his forehead.

Suddenly there was a loud pop. Mrs. Birdsall entered the room shrieking. The top of the pot crashed through the dining room window. The body of the pot veered around and landed, with a resounding whack on the back of Mr. Birdsall's neck. One of the thongs had evidently broken.

Mr. Birdsall dropped his apparatus and stared in dazed fashion at his wife, who was removing a sticky, yellow mass from her face with her apron. On a level with his head, the four walls of the room were decorated with a broad, spattered yellow band, from which little yellow drops were slowly trickling down the flowered wall paper. The back of Mr. Birdsall's neck was streaming raw yellow egg and raw egg was spattered freely over the carpeted floor.

Mr. Birdsall stood speechless and aghast for a moment, and seemed unable to find words. His wife gazed at him with frightened eyes. Then Mr. Birdsall's countenance became suffused with rage.

"Ann," he howled, "the fellow who wrote that yarn was an infernal liar!"

Vitality Sapped by Years of Suffering with Kidney Trouble.

Capt. J. W. Hogun, former postmaster of Indianola, now living at Austin, Tex., writes: "I was afflicted for years with pains across the loins and in the hips and shoulders. I had headache also and neuralgia. My right eye, from pain, was of little use to me for years. The constant flow of urine kept my system depleted, causing nervous chills and night sweats. After trying seven different climates and using all kinds of medicine I had the good fortune to hear of Doan's Kidney Pills. This remedy has cured me. I am as well to-day as I was twenty years ago, and my eyesight is perfect."

MEN STILL LIVE IN CAVES.

Troglodytic Villages Are Found in Northern Africa.

Grottoes and caverns are used more or less as shelters by primitive peoples and this inhabited caves are of course most frequent in Africa. A considerable number of natives make their homes in caves along the southern shore of the Strait of Gibraltar and in some of those caves are found the polished stones and arrow heads of the stone age. Troglodyte villages are frequent in the Tebessa territory of Algeria, one of which, at Djeurf, 250 feet above the gorge of the Wadi Hallall, is reached by steps cut in the rock.

The inhabitants of the Tunisian island of Galite are cave dwellers, their habitations being grottoes which they have dug out of the limestone, or ancient burial caverns that they have enlarged. The subterranean villages of Matmata and of Medeninie, hewn out of the rock, are in southern Tunisia.

A Christian monastery built underground in the twelfth century still exists at Goba, Abyssinia. The enormous cavern discovered several years ago within two hours' walk of the port of Tanga, in German East Africa, contains rooms the roofs of which are from 120 to 250 feet above the floor. Only a few of these vast chambers have yet been explored, for the entire cavern seems to be inhabited by millions of bats. One of these, killed with a stick measured nearly five feet across its extended wings.

SCALY ERUPTION ON BODY.

Doctors and Remedies Fruitless—Suffered 10 Years—Completely Cured by Cuticura.

"When I was about nine years old small sores appeared on each of my shin bones. I scratched them with a brass pin and shortly afterwards both of those limbs became so sore that I could scarcely walk. When I had been suffering for about a month the sores began to heal, but small scaly eruptions appeared where the sores had been. From that time onward I was troubled by such severe itching that, until I became accustomed to it, I would scratch the sores until the blood began to flow. This would stop the itching for a few days, but scaly places would appear again and the itching would accompany them. After I suffered about ten years I made a renewed effort to effect a cure. The eruptions by this time had appeared on every part of my body except my face and hands. The best doctors in my native county advised me to use arsenic in small doses and a salve. I then used to bathe the sores in a mixture which gave almost intolerable pain. In addition I used other remedies, such as iodine, sulphur, zinc salve, ——'s Salve, —— Ointment, and in fact I was continually giving some remedy a fair trial, never using less than one or two boxes or bottles. All this was fruitless. Finally my hair began to fall out and I was rapidly becoming bald. I used ——'s ——, but it did no good. A few months after, having used almost everything else, I thought I would try Cuticura Ointment, having previously used Cuticura Soap and being pleased with it. After using three boxes I was completely cured, and my hair was restored, after fourteen years of suffering and an expenditure of at least $50 or $60 in vainly endeavoring to find a cure. I shall be glad to write to any one who may be interested in my case. Hiram Mattingly, Vermillion, S. Dak., Aug. 18, 1906."

Austrian Nuns of Noble Blood Lead Pleasant Lives.

The first lady" in the Austro-Hungarian court is now the abbess of the Theresian Convent of the Noble Ladies in Prague, a position which is always held by an archduchess. Archduchess Maria Annunciata, the present abbess, who is a niece of the emperor, has succeeded to the position of first lady through the widowhood of the Archduchess Maria Josefa, wife of the late Archduke Otto. The noble nuns of Prague lived a very different life from what is the usual conception of convent life. They play a leading part in the society of the city and are not even compelled to live in the abbey, where each is provided with two rooms and service. Handsome carriages with liveried servants are also provided for their use, and they have a box in the opera. Each noble lady is paid $500 a year, while the abbess has a salary of $10,000. When they attend court balls they must wear black evening dress with a ribbon of light blue.

THE GRAND TRUNK PACIFIC RAILROAD AND WESTERN CANADA.

Will Open Up Immense Area of Free Homestead Lands.

The railway facilities of Western Canada have been taxed to the uttermost in recent years to transfer the surplus grain crops to the eastern markets and the seaboard. The large influx of settlers and the additional area put under crop have added largely to the grain product, and notwithstanding the increased railway facilities that have been placed at the disposal of the public, the question of transportation has proved to be a serious one.

It will, therefore, be good news to everyone interested in Western Canada to know that an authoritative statement has been given out by C. M. Hays, president of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, that that railway will do its share towards moving the crop of 1907 from Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba to tide water, and thus assist in removing a serious obstacle which has faced the settlers during recent years. Mr. Hays, who has just completed a trip from Portage la Prairie to Edmonton in a prairie schooner, a distance of 725 miles, which was covered in eighteen days, is enthusiastic about the country.

This will be gratifying to settlers in the Canadian West, even if Mr. Hays declines to be bound to a time limit with the exactitude of a stop-watch. The Grand Trunk Pacific road will be in a position to take part in the transportation of the crop of 1907, and that will be satisfactory to the settlers in that country when the harvest is garnered.

The wheat crop of 1906 in Western Canada was about 90,000,000 bushels, and, with the increased acreage which is confidently expected to be put under crop next year, it is safely calculated that fully 125,000,000 bushels will be harvested in 1907. The necessity for increased transportation facilities are, therefore, apparent, and the statement made by Mr. Hays will bring encouragement to the farmers of the Canadian West, new and old. The opening up of additional thousands of free homesteads is thus assured by the agent of the Canadian Government, whose address appears elsewhere.

HEADS SHAPED TO ORDER.

German Doctor Explains Causes of Various Formations.

At a recent convention of German naturalists and doctors Dr. Walcher, of Stuttgart, in an instructive paper put forth a sensational theory to explain the formation of the shape of the head of infants. He maintained that the head of a child could be molded artificially. He found by experience that when a medium-shaped head is placed in a soft cushion the child turns on its back, or rests on the back of its head, in order to free mouth, nose and face. In this manner the head rests smoothly, and a short head is developed. But if the medium-shaped head of a child is placed on a hard under-rest, like a hair mattress or rolled carpet, the child's head turns aside, as it cannot stand any more on its head than an ape, for the muscle of the back is weakened. Therefore, with continued resting on the side a long head is developed. To prove his assertions the lecturer presented a child whose mother and sister were short-headed. The child at its birth had a short head, now after 18 months it is long skulled. If the child had been placed on its back, according to other experiences its head would have been short-shaped. Dr. Walcher did not deny that the shape of the head was inherited but asserted that it could be greatly influenced by the way the child rested.

COSTLY PRESSURE.

Heart and Nerves Fail on Coffee.

A resident of a great western state puts the case regarding stimulants with a comprehensive brevity that is admirable. He says:

"I am 56 years old and have had considerable experience with stimulants. They are all alike—a mortgage on reserved energy at ruinous interest. As the whip stimulates but does not strengthen the horse, so do stimulants act upon the human system. Feeling this way, I gave up coffee and all other stimulants and began the use of Postum. Food coffee some months ago. The beneficial results have been apparent from the first. The rheumatism that I used to suffer from has left me. I sleep sounder, my nerves are steadier and my brain clearer. And I bear testimony also to the food value of Postum—something that is lacking in coffee." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. SAVES HER VISITING CARDS.

One Woman's Pet Economy Certainly a Queer One.

Women are proverbially niggardly on one or two points; every woman that ever existed had some pet economy, no matter how extravagant she may be in some respects. There's the woman who spends hundreds of dollars on imported gowns, but hates to give up one penny for a paper of pins. The paper-saving person who drops into department stores and hotels to borrow stationery rather than spend any money upon the commodity always is with us; we all know the stamp stealer and the match borrower; but the visiting-card economizer is a new brand of woman who exists only in the most exclusive society. So niggardly is she on the point of her visiting cards that she demands them back from her intimate friends; from her mere acquaintances as she steams them at an opportune moment when the servant's back is turned, or when the mistress has left the room. She puts them slyly back into her card case. By a clever series of manipulations it is said she can make 100 of them go as far as 500 went before.
