New Years day was quietly passed in our midst. The weather was mild and everybody seemed in a quiet happy mood—even the editor seemed impressed to take a new start. Hope so.

True, we have some women who will say, "The rest room don't help me any." What helps one woman, helps all, and hundreds of women waiting there in business find it useful and helpful.

Bert Richardson is home for the holidays. He was accompanied by Senor Juan Yema, a native Philippino from Manilla. Mr. Yema came to this country about three years ago for the first time. He returned about a year ago but a 30-day stay at his old home sent him gladly flying back to our grand U. S. A.

According to Manilla papers, one of old Birmingham boys about now is using chop sticks and hobnobbing with mandarins and children of the sun, as Capt. M. O. Bigelow began a two-months-trip Dec. 15th, to take in Japan and China. Well, well, he will have seen the top and bottom of our little world when he returns.

The family of Albert W. Campbell were sitting around the family hearth New Year's eve when the telephone bell rang and Dr. Campbell, their absent son in Alpena, wished them all a Happy New Year. It seemed incredible that he was in his office at Alpena, the voice was so clear and loud. A happy chat was enjoyed by all.

L. H. Rousseau and wife gave their annual New Year's dinner to John Wilkinson, his tribe and all their descendants. Ed. C. Wood, of Detroit, with his wicked little fiddle furnished music. Rousseau, the R. F. D. man, was the saddest of the bunch to see his good cash disappear in the shape of a fine roast goose and all the trimmings—Brace up, Louiee.

The women's rest room in the Court House at Pontiac was given to the women of Oakland county on the condition that they would pay the matron. The women of Birmingham and vicinity for the purpose of raising their share, are to hold a food sale at the Library room Saturday, Jan. 12, at 2 p. m. Every woman in town is earnestly requested to help. If each one will do a little, it will be easily raised.

For the first time in many years the new year was ushered in in Birmingham in proper style. Andrew Binyan, the patriotic janitor of the M. E. church, rang the old year out and the new year in, keeping a little watch meeting all by himself. Some of our citizens thought a fierce conflagration threatened our quiet village but as no harm was done, we say in hearty tones, "Rah! for Andrew, for keeping alive an old and time honored custom.

The annual meeting of the S. S. board of the M. E. church was held last Friday evening in the church parlors. Pastor Kishpaugh presided over a full attendance and regular business and reports showed the school to be in excellent condition. Officers elected for the coming year: Supt., Nelson Shattuck; assistant supt., Mrs. Helen Corson; sec., Charles Boughner; treas., Miss Mable Keyser; organist, Mabl Pearsall; chorister, Mrs. Bert Bird. The appreciation of Harvey Staley's seven years's work as superintendent was expressed by a rising vote of thanks.

Miles F. Baldwin, telephone inspector for Birmingham and Royal Oak, fell Monday forenoon from a 30-foot telephone pole near this office in this village. He climbed to the cross-arm at the top on iron steps, reached up to pull himself up when the pin broke and he fell backwards. Before reaching the ground he struck a guy wire which threw him into a mud puddle and save his life. He received a four-inch scalp wound, a sprained ankle and a general shaking up. The young man has made many friends here during his short stay and at his boarding place, Mrs. Nellis Camp's, all that can be done for his benefit is gladly done. Dr. J. W. Campbell is his physician and he is gaining slowly.

Prof. Whitman, of the Strasburg Dancing Academy in Detroit, has brought a dancing class from the start to a very satisfactory finish—at least the finish is in sight of the beginner's class. Only two more nights to teach the starters. All of these can do a two-step to perfection and waltz around Willie very satisfactory. Drs. Shaw and Johnston have prevailed upon Prof. Whitman to start an advanced class to follow the finish of the beginner's class. To this advanced class all can belong that have a start in dancing. Old dancers can learn all the newest dances. New pupils can go right along with the class and with them be taught all the latest and most fashionable dances. He will teach: two ways of the three-step, the four-step, the two-step gavotte, the two-step schottische, the rye, the U. S. M. Waltz, society or military waltz, walking two-step and the Lancers. Now many who wished to join the class but were too late can join. See either Dr. Shaw or Johnston or Prof. Whitman at the regular class evening, Tuesday night.

REVIEW OF REVIEWS

The more magazines there are the more necessary is the REVIEW OF REVIEWS, because it brings together the best that is in all the most important monthlies in the world. Such is the flood of periodical literature that now-a-days people say the only way to keep up with it is to read the REVIEW OF REVIEWS. Entirely over and above this reviewing section, it has more original matter and illustrations than most magazines, and the most timely and important articles printed in any monthly. The REVIEW OF REVIEWS covers five continents, and yet is American first and foremost.

WOMAN'S HOME COMPANION

Has the largest subscription list of any 10-cent magazine—3,000,000 people read this one magazine every month. Besides the helpful, intimate things that women want to know, there are delightful stories and articles by Kate Douglas Wiggin, Elizabeth Stuart Phelps, Jack London and Mary E. Wilkins Freeman; inspiring editorials by Dr. Edward Everett Hale; Miss Gould's fashion pages, her dressmaking lesson and her free shopping service; Miss Farmer's cooking department; the children's own pages; in all 12 useful departments—something for all the family and for the woman—everything.

It aims to be the one indispensable magazine in the home—"The Great Home Magazine of America." While still retaining as a foundation principle the idea of Inspiration and Uplift, it has broadened into a far wider field—the Work of the World. In the lighter and more entertaining Serial and Short Stories, and in its Special Departments, it will present the best work of the most brilliant writers of the day. The art covers of Success Magazine are fine reproductions of paintings.
