Fred F. Zillman, Once a Printer on The Eccentric, Is Very Grateful.

The Lammal report for 1906 from the Department of the Interior, at Washington, on the cement industry of the United States, was issued a few weeks ago; and contains items of much interest to Portland cement manufacturers. We understand, also, that our former towamene, E. L. Buell, of Detorit, and J. M. Donaldson, of Pontiac, are feeling quite elated over the boost the above report has linadvertantly given their particular enterprise. In a former issue, it will be recalled, we drew attention to the fact that Mr. Messas, Wirtzensan & Mirchell, 2014.

above report has imadvertantly given their particular enterprise. The second of the content of the fact that Mr. Buell and others had purchased a cement property at Marengo and were proceeding to organize a company. The following are extract from the report:

"Among the new Portland cement in "Among the new Portland cement plants for Indiana, and a possible producer for 1907, is a mill at Marengo."

"The rise in the yearly output from the second of the content of the producer for 1907, is a mill at Marengo."

"The rise in the yearly output from one segretation of the producer for 1908 has not only been continuous, but has ever shown a tendency to increase its rate of increase."

"The few Western plants are not capable of making much impression on the second of the character." (The Marengo Marine Marine engo property composition of rock and clay of the very best quantity.)

From the above, it would seem that the same of the Fortland cement in the same of the Fortland cement in dustry, in raw materials, shipping facilities and location; and while we wish them well, we envy their luck.
