A Number of New Houses This Season Adds $40,000 to the Value of Birmingham.

As the building season of 1907 draws slowly to a close, a look back towards the many new houses just completed is very pleasing to the person who holds the growth of Birmingham dear to his heart.

Notwithstanding the strange stringency in the money market just at this particular time, it has no effect on the great amount of work being done in this locality by the Michigan State Telephone Company.

After a wait of nearly two years, Foreman Bogan, with an accomplished set of veteran pole setters and wire distributors, arrived here and began work in Troy, first making cable accommodations for the office.
