

THE SOO CANAL
THE STEAMER WRECKED

Over One Hundred Lives Lost in the Disaster.
The steamer Larchmont of the Joy line, with 150 to 200 passengers on board, bound from Boston for New York, was wrecked on the east side of Block Island early Tuesday, after having collided with the three-masted schooner, off Quaker Point, Quaker Point. Over 175 lives were lost. The passengers and crew from the steamer were rescued and taken to the boats. The temperature was well below zero.

THE ATTEMPT TO PROVE THAW WAS TEMPORARILY INSANE
A. HUMMEL IN THE CASE
Great Legal Battle To Save Harry K. Thaw From the Electric Chair For Murder.

Expert on the Stand.
Dr. Britton D. Evans, superintendent of the State insane hospital at Worcester, Mass., was examined Tuesday on the point of Thaw's mental condition.
The witness knew Harry K. Thaw; he saw him August 4, 1906, in the Tombs, and in all visited him eight times.
Dr. Evans said he was alone on the visits of August 4 and October 1. At other times he was accompanied by Dr. Charles G. Wagner, who testified yesterday.
"When during those visits did you observe in the mental condition of Mr. Thaw?"
"On a regular visit of August 4, he exhibited a peculiar facial expression, glaring of the face, restlessness of the eye, suspicion of his surroundings, and nervous agitation and restlessness such as comes from a severe brain storm common in those who have a personal character, and an exaggerated opinion and along with delusions of a persecutory character."
"Did you observe any other symptoms?"
"Yes, he had a disproportionate idea of importance of self, a feeling of being elevated above normal, and above those actually so."
"These symptoms," he said, "were characteristic of several mental diseases, but the most prominent was mania. It is characteristic of the development of the mind in 10 to 15 years, and is usually followed by a period of mental unsoundness, the period of which is of unusual length."
"Did you observe any other symptoms?"
"Yes, he had during the afternoon that as a result of his first three visits to Thaw he reached the conclusion that Thaw was of unusual mind."
"Then he said that as a result of his later visits he reached the conclusion that Thaw's mental condition, while still improved, was still improved."

Four-Year Fight.
A five-year fight, for four years, William Peck, of Montague, Muskegon county, is a prisoner with Sheriff Peck at the Michigan State Prison, after having been convicted of statutory larceny. Peck's case is one without a parallel in Michigan history. He has been in the Michigan State Prison three times before. Michigan supreme court. So doubtful were the supreme court that at the trial of the second case the judge couldn't agree and they created a precedent by ordering the case retried. Peck's attorney, William H. Miller, has kept his man from leaving jail since now, but even at the last trial the state was unable to prove having committed the crime to the position of mental unsoundness, the period of which is of unusual length.

Military Matters.
Capt. Oakley, of Company K, Third Regiment, Cheboygan, has resigned his commission. He was ordered by the state military authorities. The resignation of Capt. Oakley, of the naval reserves, has been ordered to Washington to attend the meeting of the National Rifle Association, to be held February 22.

What a cold-blooded murderer the average scoundrel is! When the character becomes an inconvenience in the symmetrical development of a plot, that character is provided with an axe, a guillotine, a guillotine, a guillotine.

Poland is the most prosperous portion of the Russian empire, four percent of the population live in towns, whereas in the rest of Russia the percentage is 13. Thirty years ago only 27,000 workers were employed in the factories and works in Poland, while now 250,000 persons are employed. The population of the country is the densest in Europe, being 250 per square mile, having more than doubled in the last 30 years.

Godovsky, who is reckoned the most wonderful living pianist from the point of view of technique, has a delightful little daughter, of whom many quaint stories are told. Once she was asked by her mother, "Do you pick away your toes, or do you pick away your fingers?" "I am going to save them for my children," answered the little girl. "But suppose you should never have any children?" "I'll give them to my grandchildren," was the unexpected reply.

The czar is going to build himself a new bombproof palace. The "Little Father" is not going to depend altogether for security on the flint divisions of his children.

WORLD'S END

John Norman, aged 20, son of a respectable parentage, was seen, can a suburb of Cheboygan, has been going into "hazy" nights, last week, and a few weeks ago, though up to two weeks ago, owing to an impediment in his speech, could utter a few words. He now preaches sermons and recites passages from the Bible of great length while under the influence of the Normans. He is crowded nightly with people from all parts of the city, who come to hear him preach. While delivering his divine messages, the strange young man, who is understood to be the son of the room and, with closed eyes, talks for sometimes two hours with the same fervor as if he were preaching. As yet he comes out of his trance his defective speech is still the grand finale. He is making all preparations for his death, which by says, will come on February 16.

His parents are Swedes. They bid everyone welcome to hear his ravings.
