About 75 happy people gathered at the home of Dan Hughes, whence they sallied forth and took by storm the residence of Dr. and Mrs. Joseph S. Morrison, one evening last week. The victorious host was led by the redoubtable Dan, and a more surprised couple than the popular Doctor and his amiable wife cannot be found. The best of good times was had by all present.

William McClelland, 83 years old this coming May, is hale and hearty and can husk as much corn as anybody. He came here from Scotland in 1851 with his mother and sister, to join a brother who had preceded them, settling on the farm of 80 acres west of Henry Miller's, and now owned by Charles G. Parks. In 1857 he married Miss Isabella Muldraugh and located on the farm now owned by him. They have seen hardships, but now there is peace and plenty. Mrs. McClelland's family came to this country from Ireland in 1850, and settled on 80 acres in Redford, the little farm being still in possession of the family. The Muldraughs were blessed with nine children—six girls and three boys.

The Best Laxative for Children.

Parents should see to it that their children have one natural, easy movement of the bowels each day. Do not dose the child with salts or giving pills, as they are too powerful in effect, and literally tear their little insides to pieces, leaving the bowels weakened and less able to act naturally than before. Laxative Iron-ox Tablets tone and strengthen the bowels, and stimulate all the little organs to healthy activity. Chocolate coated tablets, easy to take, never gripe or nauseate. 10c, 25c and $1.00.

CROWNS MANY BENEFICES TO BIRMINGHAM BY OFFERING A LIBRARY AND BUILDING

In the picture are shown the Birmingham library building and Miss Martha Baldwin. Miss Baldwin has been the active figure in Birmingham's civic life for a number of years, inspiring many philanthropic and civic improvement undertakings.

BIRMINGHAM, Mich., Jan. 26.—The Ladies' Library society, of Birmingham, has offered to give to the village its library of 2,400 volumes and 800 pamphlets, also its interest in the library building, provided the building is used for a library and municipal building and provided that the village shall vote an annual tax of one-half mill on a dollar on the assessed valuation of the property in the village.

Miss Martha Baldwin, who holds a mortgage of $2,500 on the building, offers to give this mortgage to the village subject to the above conditions. This property is situated on one of the main corners of the village and its worth is variously estimated at from $4,000 to $5,000. The village is asked to submit this proposition to the voters at the spring election and it is generally conceded that if the town has any public spirit, it will be only too glad to accept so liberal an offer.

The town cannot afford to lose the library and this plan will place it on a firm basis, but it will give a municipal building of which any village may well be proud.

Miss Martha Baldwin has always lived here, taught her first school here, long all the present two generations have gone to her. She finished her teaching as principal of the Detroit Normal school, where she must have taught more than 15 years.

She is a remarkable strong woman. She organized and personally has kept alive this library society over 30 years, was the first person to agitate a water works system for the village and brought it to a successful vote.

She is the whole works of the Greenwood Cemetery association, creating from a weedy cow pasture, a beautiful cemetery ground, buying more land and putting it all in fine shape. She organized the improvement association that converted an old abandoned gravel pit into a beautiful park for the village. She has represented Michigan in two or more of the national meet of the Women's Federation of clubs, once at Washington and again at Minneapolis. She is one of the foremost workers for the women's rest room at the Pontiac court house for Oakland county visits the inmates of the county house annually and collects reading matter for them and other necessaries for their care and improvement. She sees that no signs are tacked or nailed on barns, sheds, and telegraph or telephone poles inside the corporation. She was instrumental in getting passed an anti-spit ordinance, etc.

Her health is superb now, and she is backed by the entire Library association in wishing to bestow upon the village, a property worth, books and all, over $6,000.

Miss Myrtle Phillips has the sincere sympathy of the school in the recent loss of her father.

Miss Bessie Russed was absent from school one day recently on account of her mother's illness.

Miss Bessie Russell entertained the Misses Helen Ealing and Rose Braun Saturday afternoon.

The 10th grade have nearly finished Ancient History, after which they will take up General History.

The new semester started Monday, Jan. 28th. All hope it will be as successful as the previous one.

Miss Anna Lafferty and Miss Florence Heavener, of the eighth grade, were absent Monday morning.

The two leaders for the next debate are James Wilson and William Hilzinger, both of whom are in the 10th grade.

A masquerade skating party was given by the boys of the school at the Cheyenne skating rink Wednesday evening.

Final examinations were Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of last week. All are anxious to find out how they stood on them.

The Misses Laura Thomas and Edith Parr, of the eighth grade, got "E plus" in deportment every month during the first semester.

A Valuable Lesson.

"Six years ago I learned a valuable lesson," writes John Pleasant, of Magnolia, Ind. "I then began taking Dr. King's New Life Pills, and the longer I take them the better I find them." They please everybody. Guaranteed at Whitehead & Mitchell's and Cobb & Cobb's drug stores. 25c.

TROY

Eugene Burrowa is improving slowly.

Miss Rhoda Frank, of Pontiac, was a guest of her sister recently.

Feb. 14th is the date for the work day and missionary tea at Mrs. Frank Richards.

The death of Eli Phillips, father of Oliver Phillips, of Troy, came as a shock to this community.

Don't forget Ezra Bailey's auction on his premises, Feb. 14th. All farm implements, stock, etc., to be sold.

Mrs. Maria McCornac spent Sunday with her sister, Mrs. J. Wright, returning to Detroit the same day.

The Farmers' Institute at Rochester Wednesday and Thursday had several of the Troy Club on the program.

A goodly number attended the Farmers' Club at George Houghton's Saturday. A fine program was carried out.

Mrs. Will Clark returned from a four days visit with her sister, Mrs. Fanny Harris, of Royal Oak, the first of the week.

REDFORD

James Kirchoff is cutting wood for Dr. Holcomb.

Several of the farmers are filling their ice houses this week.

Most of the grippe victims have recovered, thanks to the cold snap.

Clyde Hutchins is a happy possessor of a brand new buggy. Watch him spin.

Arthur Simmons is not very good-natured lately. He has been visiting the dentist's office.

George Churches is very busy this winter. Having just completed a barn for Dr. Gue, he is about to start one for John Angell, of this place.

Wm. J. Muldraugh visited in Southfield with his camera last week. See him at his office in Redford if you want pictures at very reasonable prices.

Hunting for Trouble.

"I've lived in California 20 years, and am still hunting for trouble in the way of burns, cuts, wounds, boils, colds, sprains, or a case of piles that Bucklen's Arnica Salve won't quickly cure," writes Charles Walters, of Alleghany, Sierra Co. No use hunting, Mr. Walters; it cures every case. Guaranteed at Whitehead & Mitchell's and Cobb & Cobb's drug stores. 25c.

SOUTHFIELD

Mrs. Emma Brooks was at Detroit last Tuesday.

A large crowd was in attendance at Dr. Norrison's last Friday night.

While drawing ice one day last week, one of Ren Bell's horses dropped dead.

Mrs. Mame Russel addressed the Junior League at Farmington last Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. V. B. Miller and children and sister, Miss Mary, of Birmingham, spent last Saturday with Dr. Miller and wife, of Farmington.

AT THE THEATRES.

LYCEUM.

Miss Cecil Spooner, the clever and fascinating young comedienne in "The Girl Raffles" will be the offering at the Lyceum for one week, commencing Sunday afternoon. Mystery surrounds a girl Raffles, which is a nickname of the supposed daughter of a dealer in antique who is running a "fence" for crook under cover of his business. Old Ironsides, as he is known, is passionately fond of the girl Raffles, who really is his niece, and whom he saved from being murdered by the hand of her father while a small child. William Burke, a detective, falls in love with Raffles and discovering the real character of the old man's business, he urges old Ironsides to remove the girl to more wholesome surroundings. The play is one continuous romance, smacking of the oldtime 16th. Century romances.

The engagement opens with a Sunday matinee, in addition to which the regular Wednesday and Saturday matinees will be given.

WHITNEY.

After an absence of one season Billy Clifford, the dudish comedian will return to the Whitney Sunday afternoon for an engagement of one week, in "A Jolly Barron", a musical fantasy of the merriest sort. The piece gives Mr. Clifford the opportunity of appearing in a congenial character of his especial liking, that of the "dude" son of a Wall street broker, whose only hopes are centered in the future of his nly oboy. The father having made his fortune, hopes to retire and leave the business in charge of his son. Imagine his dismay when the idol of his life, comes home from college, expelled for some boyish prank, and instead of being the manly, square-shouldered, level-headed young man that the old gentleman had so fondly desired, he is a dude, and a jim-dandy at that. Elaborate stage effects, a pretty and well-drilled chorus, catchy musical numbers and numerous funny situations are promised.

The engagement is for one week with matinees daily except on Wednesday.

GAYETY.

At the new Gayety Theatre, corner of Lafayette Ave., and Shelby street, opposite the postoffice building, Detroit, for the coming week, will be offered the followiug attractions. Wrestling on Friday night. Amateurs Thursday. Bargain matinees; seats, 15 and 25 cts.

The most perfectly formed woman on the stage to-day, and the Gans-Herman fight, at Tonopah, Nev., on New Years day, besides the engagement of Boston Belles Burlesquers. Miss Frankie Bailey, actress and singer, was lately measured by Dr. Dudley A. Sargeant professor of physical culture, at Harvard university, who declared her to be the most beautiful formed woman he had ever seen. The Boston Belles present two lively burlettas and eight vaudeville acts besides the extra attractions named. "Patsy Bolivar's Vacation" is an uproarious farce, while the second musical comedy, "The Sultan of Morocco," is full of more subdued humor, with any number of good musical skits.

JESTERS HAVE THEIR TROUBLES

Punishments for Failure to Amuse Their Royal Masters.

The man who has recovered $5,000 reward for his services as a jester may thank his stars that he did not have to joke for a livelihood in earlier days at the courts of greater potentates.

Ivan the Terrible, Peter the Great, and the Emperor Paul, for example, had rough ways with their fools. A dagger thrust would follow a poor joke and banishment any sign of declining wit. Once when Fougere, the jester of Czar Paul, offended his royal master he was permitted to depart in peace. In the middle of the night, however, he was aroused, and ordered to get up and prepare for immediate banishment to Siberia. He was bundled into a dark van and driven away on his long journey.

Day after day, week after week it lasted. Upon arrival he stepped out into the presence of—the czar. All the time he had been driven, not toward Siberia, but round and round in St. Petersburg!

La Grippe and Pneumonia.

Foley's Honey and Tar cures la grippe coughs and prevents pneumonia. Refuse any but the genuine in the yellow package. All druggists.

"MANLY ART" IN FRANCE.

Sport of Boxing Just Now Something of a Craze.

Boxing has become quite the rage in Paris; the old savate, with its effective high kicking, has been discarded for the "noble art" of Britain. But our lively neighbor the Gaul has always had a sneaking affection for a manly bout of fisticuffs a l'Anglais. When Owen Swift, the famous champion of the Midlands, took refuge in Paris after killing his opponent, Brighton Bill, in a prize fight, he was patronized by all the members of the French Jockey club. After a fierce battle at Charenton with Jack Adams, another pugilist of renown, Swift was arrested and brought before the Paris tribunal of correctional police on a charge of "having inflicted wounds occasioning an incapacity to labor for less than 20 days." Owen's description in his evidence, of the course of training which he had to go through had an amazing effect upon the young sporting swells of Paris. For months afterward these young exquisites might be seen going at their best pace along the streets and boulevards, muffled up to their eyes in sweaters and greatcoats, getting into condition for boxing.—T. P. O. of London.

Foley's Honey and Tar cures the most obstinate coughs and expels the cold from the system. It is mildly laxative. It is guaranteed. The genuine is in the yellow package. All druggists.

Laxative
Iron-ox
Tablets

Cure Biliousness

The most common causes of biliousness is some perversion of the functions of the liver, or the retention of bile in the bile duct.

YELLOW SALLOW SKIN IS AN INDICATION OF BILIOUSNESS.

"Laxative Iron-ox Tablets are the best laxative I have ever used. They have cleared my yellow skin and bilious attacks away, and I am a well man. I never knew what a well feeling was before." (Capt.) C. Goldsborough, Baldwin's Store, Bath, N. Y.

Laxative Iron-ox Tablets tone and strengthen the bowels, and stimulate the secretions of the liver. If the bowels and liver are active and working harmoniously, waste matter and poisons which cause biliousness, stomach trouble, headache, backache, colds and rheumatism cannot accumulate in the system.

Had Her Guessing.

Alta's mother was ill and Alta had been asked to make the coffee, using half an egg to settle it. The problem was too much for the little girl, who came running to her mother, a knife in one hand and an egg in the other, and asked: "How do you cut an egg in half without spilling it?"

Lay Wires from Motor Cycle.

A new application of the motor cycle to military service has been invented in Austria. It concerns the quick laying of telephone and telegraph wires. In front of the cycle is installed a cylindrical roll or reel upon which the wire is wound, and a man sitting in the moving car lays the wire, by means of a long pole, either in the tops of the trees, or, if there are none, in ditches or gutters. With the new apparatus three miles of wire may be laid in 12 minutes.

Important People.

Agreeable to Him.

"Here's a letter from the Boss," said the machine leader's henchman. "He said you'd give me a job."

"But," protested the merchant, "I have absolutely nothing for you to do here."

"That's all right. I won't mind that so long's I get me pay reg'lar."

Always the Exception.

When a man so sinks his own identity that all thought of self is banished, and only the object of devotion remains, he understands how to love. One's country, children, ideas and loved ones in this fashion, but not a woman.—Le Figaro.

Coeducation Denounced.

A London writer says that at a conference of head teachers at Leamington, Miss Cleghorn, head of a large elementary school at Sheffield, denounced coeducation. She said that big mixed schools were bad for children—educationally, morally and physically.

Law of Caste in Way.

One of the objections to railway in the minds of the natives of India, that if a Brahmin gets into the same carriage accidentally with a Pariah, must violate the religious rule which bids him keep 96 steps away from the latter.
