

PRINCE OF WALES

FORMER HOUSEKEEPER WEDS WESTERN MILLIONAIRE.

Was Once Companion of His First Wife—Succesfully Invests Savings. Then Educates Her-self and Travels.

Spokane, Wash.—Anna Larson-Peterson, born in a humble parson's in Sweden, has become the wife of D. C. Corbin, millionaire railroad builder and sugar manufacturer, president of the Spokane International Railway company, whose life he built after selling the Spokane Falls & Northern road company to the Great Northern road company.

Mr. Corbin's romance reads more one of those Christian Anderson's fairy tales than a story of modern life. The daughter of a small farmer in Sweden, she dreamed of the future, and before she attained her majority she came to America, like many of her countrymen and women, to improve her station in life.

After working in various households in New England and the middle western states, she came to Spokane 12 years ago and entered the home of D. C. Corbin as a housekeeper and companion to Mrs. Corbin. She gained the friendly confidence of Mrs. Corbin, who assisted her with her education.

Before her marriage she invested her savings in realty, which she sold profitably, and with the proceeds went to Chicago and visited herself under the instruction of a local hardware firm, but they liked to get together only a few weeks, and two years afterward the young woman obtained a divorce at Chicago.

ONCE RICH; IS NOW HOMELESS.

EX-MAYOR OF NEW YORK TOWN IS EVICTED.

Jeremiah Casey, of Edgewater, N. Y., Losses Foreseen in Litigation—Rise and Fall Due to His Inventive Genius.

New York.—At one time affluent, Jeremiah Casey, formerly mayor of Edgewater, on the Palisades, the other day was ejected from the home he had bought three years ago and all the possessions he had left in the world were set out in the street. His wife was so shocked by this latest bit of experience that she collapsed and had to be placed in a doctor's care.

Casey's later years have been full of hard luck and litigation. About all the money he once possessed has been spent in lawsuits. His prosperity and adversity are due almost entirely to his inventive genius. Several years ago he invented a mangle machine. The device could take the requisite amount of timber, after it had been sawed to the proper length, and make a box of it as good as if better, than one made by a carpenter.

COST OF SHRINERS' WRECK.

Southern Pacific Railroad Will Pay Out About $1,180,000.

San Francisco.—Accident insurance policies, $200,000. Regular life policies, $220,000. Retained damage settlements (estimated), $600,000. Damage to train, etc., $60,000. Total, $1,180,000.

These figures represent the financial phase of the recent terrible wreck of the "Shriners" train at Honda, north of Santa Barbara. In which 22 men and women were killed and 16 badly injured. Inquiries by the railroad officials indicate that many of the deaths in the case of the accident policies, which contained the usual specifications that the amount be doubled in case of death in a train wreck. One company will have to pay accident losses amounting to about $175,000, and another company about $25,000.
