

WITNESS BEFORE JUDGE LANDIS TELLS LITTLE

John D. Rockefeller Ignorant of Standard Oil's Business—Figures Re-quired as Basis for Fine Obtained from Pratt.

Chicago.—John D. Rockefeller, the witness chair before Judge K. M. Landis, of the United States district court Saturday, told all he could remember of, knew, or all he said he could remember or knew, of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey.

It wasn't a great deal, Mr. Rockefeller said he really was sorry it was better for his knowledge had been better or his recollection clearer it would have been more, Mr. Rockefeller said.

Mr. Pratt—Charles M. Pratt, secretary of the company—could tell more—said Mr. Pratt did, giving necessary details.

Mr. Rockefeller was deferential to the court, friendly with the curious public that crossed his path or tagged his footsteps, affable with the reporters, genial to all comers, and at ease with the world. In the evening he departed for Cleveland.

What information furnished by Mr. Rockefeller in court and amplified by details furnished by Mr. Pratt, Judge Landis secured the knowledge which he sought to obtain, which required the bringing of Mr. Rockefeller from Pittsburgh, Mass., to Chicago.

He knows now how much of a fine the Standard Oil company of Indiana can stand. He knows from the official of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey that the stock of the Indiana company is controlled by the New Jersey company.

The paragon was admitted. The earnings of the New Jersey company were given. Judge Landis knows that the concern found guilty in his court on the charge of retaining more than the maximum fine permitted by the law—$29,000,000.

Dodge Immunity Bath.

This information was secured without allowing Mr. Rockefeller or any of the other witnesses to give testimony which might enable Attorney John B. Miller to claim immunity. A dangerous question was asked by one of the attorneys for the government, but Judge Landis stopped the answer.

"I do not want that," he said.

He secured what he did want, and gave it in a petition to fix the amount of the penalty.

Mr. Rockefeller and Mr. Pratt were

Standard Oil Magnate Who Was Unable to Tell Judge Landis Much About Oil Trust

since I have been at all actively related with the affairs. It is eight or ten years, your honor, since I have been out of the affairs of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey.

Q—What is your general impression as to what the business of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey is doing in the matter of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey?

A—That they have a refinery and refine oil. For me—the fact, it would be impossible for me to give to make an answer to that question intelligently without a study of the books.

Knows Little About Refineries.

Q—Have you any recollection, Mr. Rockefeller, that the Standard Oil company of New Jersey is interested in the operation of refineries that are in New Jersey by the Standard Oil company of New Jersey?

A—I do not know what refineries there are. The refining business has been taken over since my retirement by the Standard Oil company of New Jersey.

Q—So that you don't know? A—I could not tell.

Q—That there are any—whether there are any oil refineries in which the Standard Oil company of New Jersey has an interest? A—I only know that there are refineries that are in New Jersey by the Standard Oil company of New Jersey.

Q—Do you know of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey being interested in the operation of any other refineries through and in the name of the corporation whose name is the Standard Oil company of New Jersey?

A—That I presume is so.

Q—Is the business of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey, generally speaking, the production and refining of oil? A—The production, the refining and sale of oil, that is an important part of the business of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey.

Q—Do you know what the dividends of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey were during the years of 1903, 1904, and 1905? A—I don't know, your honor, exactly what the dividends were, but I know, on the outstanding stock, I would not undertake to speak absolutely definite, but that is a close approximate.

Q—Do you know what the net earnings of the Standard Oil company were during those years? A—I do not know, your honor, exactly what the net earnings were, but I know, on the outstanding stock, I would not undertake to speak absolutely definite, but that is a close approximate.

Q—Do you know what the net earnings of the Standard Oil company were during those years? A—I do not know, your honor, exactly what the net earnings were, but I know, on the outstanding stock, I would not undertake to speak absolutely definite, but that is a close approximate.

What Judge Landis secured from Mr. Rockefeller was the fact that the outstanding capitalization of the New Jersey company is about $100,000,000.

The fact that it pays approximately 40 per cent dividends.

What he secured from Mr. Pratt was the fact that the outstanding capital stock of the New Jersey company is $88,300,000.

That it made $81,500,000 net profits in 1904.

That it made $57,000,000 net profits in 1905.

That the Standard Oil company of New Jersey controls the Standard Oil company of Indiana, which is the company found guilty in the rebating trial.

John D. Rockefeller, testifies, as follows:

The Court—Mr. Rockefeller, have you any official connection with the Standard Oil company of New Jersey?

A—I am the president, but my position is purely honorary, and has been for the last eight or ten years, as follows:

Museum Rooms Famous Painting.

New York.—Announcement was made this famous likeness of George Washington by Gilbert Stuart, known as the Gibbs-Channing-Avery portrait, has been acquired by the Metropolitan Museum of Art.

Seven Died in Cyclone.

La Crosse, Wis.—Complete reports from the tornado-torn district east of La Crosse show only seven persons have been killed, instead of 25, as first reported.

Victory in Formosa.

British R. C.—The steamer Fremont brought news of desperate fighting in Formosa, where the Japanese are conducting operations against the Formosan natives, now being headed by five hundred Formosan Chinese, trained by Japanese officers and led by Lieut. Hayashi, attacked the natives who held Chienchuan at a well-fortified camp. After three days' fighting the stronghold was carried in a desperate charge. The 500 troops were killed.

Mendenhall, chief of the Philippine army, will attend, and on the second day will give the military program. Among other speakers will be Gen. Wood, Frederick C. Funston, Col. Wheeler S. Metcalf, of the famous Twentieth Cavalry, Brig. Gen. Irving Hale, of Denver, and Brig. Gen. Charles King.

MINERS' ETIQUETTE

STRICT RULES GOVERN IN THE WESTERN DESERT.

It is Not Considered Polite to Ask Where Any Man's Claims or Secret Water Holes Are Located.

"Never ask a man anything about his mine; he won't tell you if you do. It isn't etiquette to ask such questions on the desert."

Then spoke J. Heintzman, late of Denver, an old timer in Death valley and the desert.

"You see, when one miner meets another on the desert they stop, talk and pass pleasantly. One will ask the other how he's getting along and he will say 'good' or 'hard luck,' but he won't tell you anything about his claims or his secret water holes or where the other has his mine located. If any man wants you to know he'll tell you without being asked. If he won't tell you it's up to you."

The fact is that if a man has a great body of low grade ore that he must have a force of men to work and take the smelters he must record it. But if he has a rich spot with some good ore he will not record it. It is not necessary, and many times one must care to have the world know about it and have everybody come to dig all over the place. It is not necessary and many times one must care to have the world know about it and have everybody come to dig all over the place. It is not necessary and many times one must care to have the world know about it and have everybody come to dig all over the place.
