Positive About.

The late Senator Platt of Connecticut enjoyed funny stories and could sell as good many himself. Notwithstanding his loop public life, he airside from his school days.

One year when the district schools opened in his town one of the teachers, in making a record of the ages of her pupils, as required by law, found that one little girl, who came especially bright, was unable to say when her birthday came.

So in order to complete her records, the teacher walked two miles to see the girl's mother one afternoon after school. Asked if she could remembe school, asked if she could remembe when the woman thought for some little time, and then with a sort of pur-gled look, said:

A Pardonable Fault.
Dr. Edward Sverett Hale, discussing a rather failely, attack that had been made on certain recent statements, smilled and said:
"little who or what is blamelesse? It is like the case of the Soutish hen. An old Scottish woman wished to seil a hen to a neighbor.
"But tell me, the neighbor said, and the self-bar said with the self-bar said. "Awell, Marzot, the other old woman admitted, "she has got one fault. She will lay on the Lord's day."
