JOURNAL'S HOME

Handsome Structure Erected by One of Detroit's Progressive News Publications.

The new building of The Detroit Journal is the most artistic in the whole business district of Detroit. The basement is of Bedford stone and the walls of white enameled terra cotta. The roof is tiled. One of the most striking features is the arched entrance, with its gilded coffered ceiling, its marble steps and wainscoting, its mosaic landing, and the large windows on the sides, giving a full view of the pressroom in the basement, where three big Hoop presses run off the papers at the rate of 48,000 an hour each. The floors are of hardwood and the interior fittings of mahogany finish. It is the lightest, airiest, most commodious newspaper building in the country.

Boy's suits up to $3 for $1.25 at Levinson's.

WE STAND STILL

A sewer Would Give Us A City of 5,000 in Ten Years. Then Let's Have One Quick!

Editor of the ECCENTRIC:—What has become of the sewer question? I well remember when the library agitation was at fever heat, the opponents were all lined up and their cry was, 'We want sewers, we must have sewers and no such Tomfoolishness as a library, as that will entail an everlasting debt upon the village.' But now dear Mitchell, the library is settled and is a grand, good investment. The tax to support it will average about 5 cents, per $100 and the statistics when compiled, rates Birmingham as having a public library. Now let us have sewers, as all cities do and live where life is worth living or close by.

A TAX PAYER. Men's canvas gloves, good quality, 5c a pair at Levinson's.

THE M. S. T. A.

Will Meet in Saginaw on October 29, 30 and 31--An Excellent Program Has Been Arranged.

The program of the 56th annual meeting of the Michigan State Teachers Association, which is to be held at Saginaw October 29-31, contains the names of some of the best speakers in the country. The general sessions will be addressed by L. H. Bailey, of Cornell University; E. E. Bryan, of Franklin College; F. W. Funsalus, of Chicago; and Senator William Alden Smith. Among the Michigan men who will speak are Superintendent Coburn, of Battle Creek; Hon. W. R. Hart, Saginaw; Hon. L. L. Wright, State Superintendent of Public Instruction; President Jones, of State Normal, and J. O. Reed, Dean of Literary Department of M. S. T. A. The program covers the entire educational field about as completely as it is for one meeting to do. This is the third year the meetings have been held in October, formerly they were held during the Christmas vacation, when about 1,000 teachers were loyal enough to the cause to forego the pleasure of going home, and attended the meeting. The change to October was made in accordance with, on toward 5,000 for the past two years, and it is expected that these figures will be exceeded this year. The State department, by making the meeting an institute, gives every teacher an opportunity to attend, and the low railroad rates that have been granted place the convention within the reach of the majority salary.

In a circular issued a few weeks ago the State Superintendent says: "Every LIVE TEACHER, commissioner and superintendent in the State is expected to be present at these meetings, as a matter of fact, very few teachers have stayed at home."

EVERY TEACHER in this village should plan to attend the meeting. School will be closed, and our salary will be paid the same as the week we attend, and the privilege of being a part of such a meeting stirs the enthusiasm and sends the teacher back to her work with many a new idea and many a good resolution that those who attend at home never feel. Teachers, of all others, should keep abreast of the times, and these meetings constitute one of the surest representatives of club-formation on the part of teachers.

An opportunity of hearing one of the most elaborate concerts ever given in the State is to be the privilege of the people of Saginaw, who are lovers of good music, and, as a compliment to the visiting members of the association an entertainment has been provided, which includes the prima donna soprano, Madame Johana Gaski, assisted by Bostonia Orchestra Club, and a chorus of 400 voices. This concert is to be given Thursday evening, October 29, and is to be free to all members of the association.

During Thursday, all the schools of the city will be in regular session and the privilege of inspecting Saginaw's excellent system of schools is given to all who attend as one of the attractions of the meeting.
